NEW SCHOOL—Students inspect a recent addition to Bel Aire School to be dedicated tomorrow at 2 p.m., in a ceremony which will also commemorate the 10th year of Reed Union School District unionization. Ceremonies will be held in the school's multi-purpose room. Guest speaker is Dr. Wallace W. Hall, associate superintendent of schools for the state.

Army Units Revolt, Seize Part Of Bolivian Capital

Government Mobilizes Militia, Loyal Troops

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The government radio said today a revolt by a regiment of National Police had been put down after a half day of fighting and seige.

The radio said resistance had ended and listed casualties at 2 persons killed and 25 wounded. One of the dead was said to be Col. Justo Burgos Navia, second in command of the insurgents.

A broadcast identified the revolt leader as Col. Hermogenes Rios Dedesma, head of the National Police. He was reported to have escaped.

LA PAZ, BOLIVA (UPI)— Army units revolted today and seized and held northern sections of the Bolivian capital against strafing government warplanes. Machine gun and mortar fire echoed in the city.

The government of President Hernan Siles Zuazo mobilized the peasant militia and reinforcements of loyal troops set out for La Paz to cope with the fifth uprising in as many years in turbulent Bolivia.

Authorities reported three persons dead and seven wounded. Siles held an emergency cabinet meeting and was reported preparing to proclaim a state of seige, suspending civil liberties.

All business shut down in La Paz. Schools closed. A rebel grenade damaged the Santa Ana School near the Plaza Murillo but there were no casualties.

LEADER NAMED

The government charged that the revolt of the well-trained and well-equipped Avelino Aliaga Regiment was led by Col. Rios Ledezma, director of police, "in a state of intoxication."

Ledezma was dismissed and Col. Victor Valdez named to replace him. Radio Illimani exhorted troops and militiamen to rally to the government's cause.

A government communique insisted the situation was under control. A spokesman said the rebellion was confined to the Avelino Aliaga and no other regiments were involved.

STRAFING

The rebels were unable to advance into the center of the city as fighter planes machine-gunned their strongholds. Siles directed government forces from his palace.

The Bolivar regiment outside the city announced it was marching to the aid of Siles.

The revolt broke out at 1 a.m., only hours after Siles had proclaimed May 22 as the date for presidential elections and ordered an amnesty for political prisoners.

Siles' ruling National Revolutionary Movement had named former President Victor Paz Estenssoro as its candidate.

Pas Estenssoro and Walter Guevara Arce, leader of the "authentic" (left wing) faction of the party went to the barracks of the Waldo Bolivian Regiment which is the unit assigned to guard the president.

Political prisoners still had not been granted freedom from Panoptico Prison under terms of Siles' amnesty and thus were taking no part in the revolt.

FIERCE FIRING

Fierce firing erupted for two hours after the revolt started. At first, residents of the city thought the Avelino Aliaga Regiment was firing a salute. A UPI telephone call to the regiment revealed it was an uprising.

The firing tapered off, but continued past dawn. At 9:30 a.m., Siles assembled the cabinet in the palace.

It was the fifth major uprising in the financially hard-pressed country since September, 1956, when hunger riots broke out.

Bolivia, a landlocked country about the size of Texas and Montana combined, has had about 125 wars and uprisings since it won freedom from Spain in 1825. A series of wars, especially the 1932-1935 Chaco War with Paraguay cut the size of the tin-rich nation in half.

MANY ATTEND OPENING OF SPORTS SHOW

The Marin Rod and Gun Club's seventh annual boat and sports show enjoyed the most successful opening in the show's history last night, said secretary Paul Ware. He said the opening was attended by more than 5,000 persons.

Opening ceremonies featured a ribbon cutting by Marin County Board of Supervisors Chairman Walter Castro.

The show, being held at the Bermuda Palms in San Rafael tonight and Sunday until 11 p.m., will feature an aquacade and a skin diving exhibition.

In the large auditorium's exhibit areas are boats, motors, guns, rods and other sporting equipment.

Russia Offers Concessions In Arms Talks

GENEVA (UPI)—The Russians ended a months-long filibuster at the nuclear test talks today by offering concessions which they said might make agreement possible in "two weeks or a month."

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin offered in effect a U.S. proposal banning all nuclear tests except underground explosions with a force of less than 20 kilotons—provided the smaller explosions were suspended indefinitely.

He said research on means of detecting underground tests should continue during the "moratorium," with a view to an eventual ban on these tests as well as all others.

SURPRISE

Tsarapkin called a surprise session of the nuclear talks today to present his proposal, which Western diplomats said might give a lift to East-West efforts to reach agreement on general disarmament.

At a news conference following the meeting, Tsarapkin made it clear that Russia has not budged on another stumbling block to nuclear agreement—the question of the number of inspections it will permit by test-detection teams on Soviet soil.

He insisted that this is a "political" problem beyond the scope of the talks here.

U.S. PROPOSAL

Tsarapkin said the Russians will not accept the U.S. proposal of 20 inspections a year to determine whether the Russians have been conducting tests over the 20-kiloton limit.

"We consider that the U.S. will have to agree to the approach on a quota of inspections proposed by the Soviet Union," he said.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, chief U.S. delegate to the talks, said the Soviet announcement "merits careful consideration." It is being sent to Washington for study.

WEST'S VIEW

Western officials pointed out however, that the Soviet proposal does not satisfy the Western view that a nuclear-test agreement should ban only tests which it is possible to detect.

U.S. experts have been arguing that it is impossible to detect underground explosions of less than 20-kiloton force with any degree of certainty.

(In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission reported today on experiments indicating that explosions of considerably more than 20-kiloton force can be "muffled" by setting them off in a large underground chamber. This suggested that the U.S. "threshold" for detecting underground tests may be revised upward.)

While the Russian proposal encompassed the American plan of Feb. 11 but added the indefinite moratorium on smaller nuclear experiments, the Russians denounced the American plan at the meeting and in broadcasts.

CAROLE TREGOFF
Freed on bail

Carole Freed From L.A. Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After 162 days behind bars, Carole Tregoff is home again.

The pretty, 23-year-old co-defendant in the Finch murder case walked out of the county jail late yesterday. She was under $25,000 bail.

On May 23, she must return to court to stand trial again with Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, on a charge they murdered the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean, 36, last July 18.

Dr. Finch has been denied bail.

Their first trial ended in a deadlock.

Police Seeking Link Between Illinois Killings

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI)—A man, his wife and three children were found shot to death in their home about 20 miles east of here today.

Police sought a possible link with the sex slayings Monday of three Chicago area women, but they thought it a remote possibility.

William Winders, 30, a factory worker, his wife and three children were found dead in their home at Seneca, a village of less than 1,500 persons. Police tended to discount a theory the family was wiped out in a fit of remorse over the Starved Rock Murders.

INVESTIGATION

However, La Salle County authorities and state police sent investigators to Seneca to delve into what apparently was a quadruple murder and suicide, while other lawmen gathered for a conference on the park murders before testifying at an inquest at nearby Ottawa, Ill., set for 8 p.m.

State Police Chief William Morris said he would question a truck driver and a resident of the park area in the slayings of three prominent women from Chicago suburbs, beaten to death and sexually attacked as they hiked through a scenic canyon Monday.

SUSPECTS

Investigation of the park murders centered around Ottawa and a tourist lodge at Starved Rock. Scores of suspects already had been questioned about the deaths of Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, prominent wives of Chicago area business executives.

A suspect in the park murders was held at Moline on a vagrancy charge. He was identified as Norman Ronald Fry, 19, a hitchhiker who was picked up in Iowa yesterday.

A truck driver who had given Fry a ride told police the suspect talked continually of the murders.

A short, stocky man, Fry said he was in Baltimore Monday, the day of the murders.

Senators Call For Tougher Cuba Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Styles Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, joined today the congressional chorus demanding a "tougher" policy towards the Cuban government of Fidel Castro.

The New Hampshire Republican is one of President Eisenhower's top legislative lieutenants. His comments were viewed as an attempt on his part to stiffen the administration's line toward the Castro regime.

"The Cuban situation is worsening daily. I think it ranks as the most acute problem now facing the United States in the field of foreign relations," Bridges told United Press International.

PRESTIGE

"Our policy involves the prestige of the United States, especially in Latin America. It will, however, have ramifications throughout the world.

I think the administration should and must toughen up on its policy toward Cuba."

Strong criticism was voiced in the Senate yesterday by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) and three other Democrats of the President's decision to return U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal to Havana.

Those comments, Bridges said, "reflect the feeling pouring in on Congress from all over the country."

SEE HOPE

U.S. officials expressed the cautious hope meantime that there may be an improvement ahead in U.S.-Cuban relations.

Assistant Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield hoped the Cuban government would use the return of Bonsal to begin serious consultations to settle differences between the two countries.

The Montana Democrat made clear he was in sympathy with the administration's decision to return Bonsal to his post. Bonsal was recalled to Washington Jan. 22, a day after Castro accused him of conspiring against the Cuban government.

Dedication, Anniversary Rites Slated Tomorrow

The Bel Aire School dedication and commemoration of the 10th year of the Reed Union School District unionization will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Bel Aire multi-purpose room, according to Richard J. MacLaury, chairman of the board of trustees.

All district trustees since 1950 have been invited to attend the ceremony as well as all past Reed district parent-teacher club district presidents, unit presidents and bond and tax rate chairmen.

The two former district superintendents have also been invited as well as the five employees in service since unionization, MacLaury said.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, associate superintendent of schools, State of California, will make the dedicatory remarks. Trustee Erwin C. Farley is chairman of the event. Trustees Mrs. William Tresnon, Dr. Alfred J. Azevedo and David D. Ring will participate in the ceremonies.

Rev. E. John Mohr, rector of St. Stephen's parish will give the benediction.

First 6 Buildings Dedicated In Marin City Development

"The front door of Marin County has been preserved in beauty . . . by a respect for nature and working with her to preserve beauty . . ."

These were words of tribute spoken by Mrs. Vera Schultz of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at today's dedication ceremony of the first six residential buildings to be completed in the Marin City redevelopment project.

Mrs. Schultz cited the seven-year struggle to get the redevelopment project under way, and noted that the "stormy struggle" had been rewarded with the producing of the "most beautiful low rent residential installations in the United States."

J. G. Melville, regional director of the U.S. Public Housing Authority also spoke at the brief ceremony.

A broadcast of the dedication ceremonies will be aired tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. on KTIM. Hugh Turner, KTIM manager, was on hand to record the ceremonies on tape.

The remaining 22 residential structures and administration—maintenance building are expected to be finished by the end of the year.

The public inspected the six completed structures following the dedication.

I-J TO RUN SERIES ON CANDIDATES

Nine cities in Marin County will elect officials of their city governments on April 12.

More than 50 candidates are in the field for these offices.

Who are these people who desire to have a hand in operating the units of government closest to the public—their municipal governments?

Starting Monday, the Independent-Journal will present, city-by-city, brief biographies and statements of purpose of the candidates in next month's municipal elections, together with their pictures.

Watch for them. Clip the one on candidates in your city to keep for reference.

MacArthur Undergoes Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur was operated on today for a prostrate gland ailment. An Army spokesman said his post-operative condition was excellent.

The 80-year-old general had four doctors in attendance during the operation at Lenox Hill Hospital. Dr. George W. Slaughter was in charge.

MacArthur was in the operating room from 10 a.m. until 10:45 a.m.

The general had entered the hospital on Jan. 29. He was treated through the ensuing weeks in preparation for the operation.

Air Force Denies Items Of Value Are Being Buried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force conceded it is burying household equipment at Canadian radar sites but denies charges that the value of the discarded items is $35,000 daily or weekly at one location.

An Air Force statement yesterday said the equipment had no economic value, and was being buried only after being offered to and rejected by the Canadian Crowd Assets Disposal Corp.

San Rafael Man Convicted Of Huge Bank Embezzlement

John R. Hendrickson of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael, today awaited completion of a federal probation report before he is sentenced next month as result of Los Angeles conviction yesterday on a $3,740,000 embezzlement charge.

The wealthy Marin County manufacturer faces a prison term which could aggregate 130 years, while the law would also permit a fine of $130,000.

Hendrickson has lived a spectacular life of extremes — at one time a bankrupt plumber, then a man of affluence with interest in six firms, now found guilty on 26 counts of one of the biggest bank embezzlements in history, involving the former East Long Beach branch of the U.S. Bank of San Diego.

A father of seven, Hendrickson was living in a $60,000 Glenwood home and busy with such matters as a half-million-dollar Army housing project contract for heating and air conditioning when a suicide note brought his name into a question of bank shortages.

At first the accusation by George A. Hewlett, bank cashier who had shot himself to death, seemed to concern a matter of $20,000 but soon the scope of the case enlarged.

Hewlett's charge was that Hendrickson had received money Hewlett had embezzled, though throughout the subsequent trial Hendrickson insisted he didn't know Hewlett was embezzling the money.

But a jury of seven men and five women required only four hours to convict. U.S. Judge Alexander Bicks has revoked Hendrickson's $100,000 bail. Hendrickson is again in jail pending the sentencing.

Federal investigators found 83 cashier's checks worth $927,000 in Hewlett's garage, made out to Hendrickson, as well as five checks totaling $75,000 and signed by Hendrickson along with $500,000 in checks made out to one of Hendrickson's seven firms.

The Hewlett note had said: "No one else is involved in this terrible mess but Johnnie Hendrickson."

Among the Hendrickson business interests are gas heater and air conditioning manufacturing plants in Los Angeles and Sebastopol.

MARY SUE HARTZELL MAKES PLANS FOR WEDDING IN FALL

Mrs. Oliver Reiff Hartzell of San Rafael is announcing the engagement of her only daughter, Mary Sue, to Lt. Thomas J. Wham. The bride-elect's father, the late Mr. Hartzell, was for many years San Rafael superintendent of schools. Mary Sue has two brothers, Robert Hartzell of Stockton and John Hartzell of San Rafael. She is a graduate of San Rafael High School where she was active in Student Body affairs and Ra Ravas. A graduate of San Jose State College, where she was affiliated with Chi Omega sorority, she is a teacher at Foothill School in Saratoga.

Lt. Wham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Wham of San Luis Obispo. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School and the University of Colorado. His fraternity is Phi Kappa Tau. He is now in the Air Force and stationed at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi. The young man is the brother of Mrs. Harvey Atkinson of San Diego. He is the grandson of Mrs. Franklin Wham and the late Mr. Wham and of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison.

Plans are being made for a fall wedding.

Marion P-TA Has Report On Staff

A report of the nominating committee was made to the executive board of the Marion P-TA, listing the nominees for next year's offices at a recent meeting.

They are Mrs. Robert Money, president; Mrs. George Whitten, vice president; Earl Farris, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Boyer, secretary; Mrs. Tony Quintana, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Dunbar, auditor; and Mrs. L. A. Heibel, historian.

The board heard a report of the first assemblies to award pins for the Library Club of America. At these assemblies 19 membership pins, requiring the reading of four books, were presented. There were five honor pins, for 12 books, and eight life membership pins for those who have read 22 books. Mrs. Robert Eby is chairman for the Library Club.

Mr. Farris reported that there were several youngsters who had read way beyond the 22 books, so it was decided to award a special emblem for the "44 Club."

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Dual Motif Of Party Hosted By Solons

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

A birthday and wedding anniversary were celebrated at the cocktail party and dinner the Gregory Solons gave a week ago tonight at their Ross home. It was the host's birthday and the twelfth wedding anniversary of the Solons. Incidentally, Greg has nearly completed his third book and he is working on the script for a screen play based on his second book, "Let Us Find Heroes."

AT THE FRESNO RANCH of Col. and Mrs. Jefferson J. Graves of Ross their son-in-law and daughter, Jack and Maudee Willcutt, with their children will be spending Easter week. They will be joined by Maudee's cousin, Mrs. Rene Ziallant of Pasadena and her two children. The ranch is only a short distance from the Sierra and wonderful skiing and a huge natural ice skating rink.

Soon after Easter Colonel and Mrs. Graves will be leaving for a summer in Europe. They will stay at their place in Normandy. Their chalet, near Deauville, was almost destroyed during World War II. It has now been completely restored and the Norman architectural style retained.

Maudee Willcutt told me that the Lyman Lacys, longtime friends and well known in Marin County, are going to Europe soon. The Lacys, who now live in Carmichael near Sacramento, will spend some time in Italy, in the country which Lyman was "shot down" during the war. The Lacys, who will be away about six weeks are also going on to London and Paris.

FOUR FAMILIES are spending the weekend in a house they have taken in Squaw Valley. The party, which left yesterday for the Sierra, includes the Mert Hipsleys, John Merrymans, Gus Niederholzers and Rene Grialous and their children.

AN AUTHOR and big game hunter, Peter Hirsch of Kansas City, Mo. who recently returned from India, was guest of honor at a cocktail party and reception given at the Sausalito home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Conner. Guests were entertained by Mr. Hirsch's account of the safari on which he killed two tigers, one of them a man-eater on which the Indian government had put a bounty. Mr. Hirsch's new book "Last Man In Paradise," being published by Doubleday and Co., will be released soon. The book is built around the author' expeditions and big game hunts. He points out that because of lack of conservation practices and the destruction of natural cover, big game will be nearly exterminated in the next 10 years except for animals on reservations and preserves and in such inaccessible places as the Arctic and Antarctic.

HONORING Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Baller and Mr. and Mrs. Gabor Rejto after the concert at the Golden Gate Theological Seminary tonight, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Spellman of Strawberry are giving a party. Baller, a pianist and longtime accompanist of Yehudi Menuhin, and Rejto, a cellist and pupil of the world renowned Casals, are presenting tonight's concert under auspices of Mariedi Anders and the Marin County Branch of the California Music Teachers Association.

Among the guests at the party will be Dr. H. K. Graves, president of the seminary; Dr. David Appleby, assistant professor of church music at the seminary, and their wives; also Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Meacham, Hugo Rinaldi, Robert Schultz, W. C Elliott and Wayne Speckmann, of Marin; Dr. and Mrs. Paul Moses and Mariedi Ander and her husband, Ernest O. Anders, of San Francisco.

A YOUNG HOLLYWOOD couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joby Baker, were honored at a dinner party given Wednesday night by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Molyneux, and Mr. Molyneux at their Larkspur home. Among the guests were Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blackman of San Francisco.

Both of the young people are in the movies. Mrs. Baker, who is known professionally as Joan Blackman, has a role in Jerry Lewis' picture "A Trip To A Small Planet."

MORE THAN A HUNDRED guests attended the at-home hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Gurdon Oxtoby of San Anselmo a week ago today honoring Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald who leave on March 22 for an extended trip. Mr. Archibald has retired after 37 years at the San Francisco Theological Seminary where he was business manager and treasurer. Dr. Oxtoby, whose father, the late W. H. Oxtoby, was president of the seminary, has been a member of the faculty for 31 years and he and Mr. Archibald are close friends. For the party, Mrs. Oxtoby wore a black shantung with brocade design, and Mrs. Archibald was gowned in a blue and green chiffon floral print with a dark ground.

Guests admired the many objects which Dr. Oxtoby had brought from the Holy Land; also his fine library which includes many rare books, also a collection of books on legerdemain, one of the host's hobbies. Azaleas and japonica decorated the rooms and an arrangement of yellow iris and snap dragons centered the tea table. Taking turns pouring were Mrs. Archibald's sister, Miss Mabel Morrison of Oakland, and Mesdames Walter Knight, Raymond Thayer, William P. Murray, Thomas Holden and Ilion T. Jones.

IN A SOUTH SEAS mood the costume party the Barnaby Conrads gave at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon Monday night. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Rutgers Jr., whom the Conrads met while they were in Tahiti last summer. Mrs. Rutgers is the daughter of the late James Norman Hall, co-author of "Mutiny On the Bounty," "Men Againts the Sea," and "Pitcain's Island." Mr. and Mrs. Rutgers live on a small plantation in the mountains above Papeete, capital of Tahiti. Mrs. Hall, mother of Nancy Rutgers, who also lives in Tahiti, is the former Sarah Winchester, a descendent of the Winchesters who sailed to the Society Islands early in the 19th Century.

The Conrad's supper was served Luau-fashion, with the 60 guests seated on the floor.

League Units Plan Meets Next Week

League work on the national, state and local level will be the subject of the Mill Valley League of Women Voters' unit meeting next week.

Scheduled for Tuesday is one unit meeting at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gwen Peticolas. Others are set for Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. in the home of Mrs. S. I. Hayakawa, and Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Belvedere home of Mrs. Rex Fink.

The league's California finance workshop will meet at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 29, in the Belvedere home of Mrs. E. A. Steinau, chairman.

The Mill Valley League has welcomed as new members Mesdames Alfred J. Azevedo, Herbert Bandis, Joseph E. Bare, John W. Binckley, Rex Fink, Alan F. French, Edmond Gross, Martin Rosse, Richard F. Stanton, James Stitt and Michael Wornum.

At a recent meeting of the league's board of directors, after three unit discussions on planning, unanimously supported the Mill Valley master plan's of maintaining and protecting the semi-rural, single family residential character and natural beauty of the community.

OUTDOOR ART CLUB AIDS PRESERVE

The Outdoor Art Club, through the recommendation of its garden section, has donated money to purchase one acre of wilderness property in northern Mendocino County to Nature Conservancy. This is a non-profit organization which is attempting to establish a 6,500-acre preserve of wild land in California's rugged north coastal mountains.

Through donations of this kind Nature Conservacy is attempting to preserve in its undisturbed natural form, this vast area that is one of the last of its kind available for preservation.

Nature Conservancy is a national organization with headquarters in Washington, D.C. Since its formation it has helped many local and state groups throughout the country to preserve countless acres of primitive land forever.

The core of the coast range preserve is 3,000 acres to be purchased through group and individual donations and to be kept in its present wilderness form. The rest of the acreage is to be leased as a buffer zone.

For those interested in more information, on the organization, Nature Conservancy's western regional office is at 1711-A Grove street, Berkeley 9, Calif.

The Reader's Digest carried an article about its work in its January, 1960 issue.

Beginners Class To Be Sponsored By Novato Squares

The Novato Squares will sponsor a beginners class in square dancing Tuesday, April 5. Persons interested in learning to square dance, or who have danced previously and would like to "get back into the swing of things," are invited.

The class will begin April 5 and will meet each Tuesday thereafter from 8:30 to 10:30 at the IDESI Hall (Old Hall) in Novato. Duration of the class will be three months (13 weeks). Bill Owen, well known Marin caller, will be instructor-caller. For further information call Phyllis Croissant, Novato, or Diane Etten, San Rafael.

Plans are under way for the Novato Squares semi-annual potluck dinner and election of officers which will be held on Thursday, April 7. The Novato Squares next party will be on Saturday, April 30 at the Marion School from 8:30 to midnight. Guest caller for the dance will be Joe Johnson of the Rancho Wranglers in San Pablo. All square dancers are invited to attend.

Mill Valley AAUW Honors Gate Playhouse Personnel, Stars

Group of members of Mill Valley branch, American Association of University Women, and some of the personnel of the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito gathered recently for coffee and dessert in the home of branch president Mrs. Joseph Brewster.

Discussed in detail were arrangements planned by the ways and means chairman, Mrs. Edward J. Boessenecker, for the opening night performance of "Where's Charley" at the Gate Playhouse on April 1. The event is a benefit for the association's educational center in Washington, D.C.

Modeling a turn-of-the-century gown loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Ernest A. Evans, a branch member, was Jerri Burnett, a star of the show. The dress is typical of those worn in Frank Loesser's musical based on the period play "Charley's Aunt" by the late Brandon Thomas.

Another start present in addition to Jerri, who will play Amy, was Don Staiton, who will appear in the title role made famous on Broadway by Ray Bolger. Both young people are college students.

Jerri attends San Francisco State College, where she is majoring in drama and minoring in music in the hope of making a career on the stage. Staiton, a Mill Valley resident, currently starring in the playhouse production, "Pipe Dream," attends the College of Marin. A music major there, he has a minor in drama.

Other gate players attending the party included Leslie Abbott, the director; Miss Kayla Kahn, the associate producer and business manager; Rich Safina, in charge of lighting; and Miss Sharon L. Smith, in charge of the box office and house management.

Branch members present in addition to Mrs. Boessenecker and Mrs. Brewster were Mesdames J. W. Lloyd and Earl F. Reinke, who will serve as hostesses for the event; Harry C. Miller, newsletter chairman; and Ross S. Shade, publicity chairman.

Coleman School Camp Fire Girls Have Penny Party

A "Panning for Pennies" Party and a Ceremonial are just part of the recent activities of the Coleman School Camp Fire Girl groups in San Rafael.

The Wa Yu Ki Mi Camp Fire group honored by Mrs. Laura Beswick, fifth grade teacher and Mrs. Sandy Keene, Camp Fire Field director at their "Panning for Pennies" party with songs sung by Jackie Jenkins, Carol Budd, Donna Presco Carol Scovill, Allison Frazier and Laurel Grover. Several puppet shows were presented by Betty Berol, Sue Clayton, Barbara Berol and Lynn Cumberpatch. Mrs. W. F. Scovill is the guardian of this group.

The Wa Ki Ya Camp Fire group, under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Bettini, held its first ceremonial of the year recognizing work done by the girl's toward the rank of Woodgathers. They were also invited to sing for the Coleman School P-TA Spaghetti Dinner.

The officers of this busy group are Cathy Templeman, president; Nan Grimes, vice-president; Karen Goldberg, secretary; Hilary Dunham, treasurer; Jane Walkmeister, publicity chairman, and Nancy Rinaldi, sergeant-at-arms.

Job's Daughters Fete Past Officers

At a recent meeting of Bethel 48, International Order of Job's Daughters, San Rafael, with Honored Queen Pat Weeks presiding, introduced and honored were Mrs. Angie Goulder, supreme senior custodian, past grand guardian and deputy grand guardian to the state of California, and past guardian of Bethel 48. Also Marilyn Nault, junior past honored queen, and Linda Warren, past honored queen of Bethel 48; Mrs. Jean Weeks, guardian and Wendell Slayton, associate guardian, both of Bethel 48; "Pop" Lind and Jerome Starr, past associate guardians of Bethel 48. The Guardian Council was also introduced.

The theme of this meeting was Past People's Night, honoring past queens, guardians, and associate guardians present at the meeting.

Hay Balers Give Party At Graduation

Graduates of the Hay Balers recent square dance class, were honored on Wednesday evening at a graduation party, held at the Star Hall in San Anselmo. One feature of the evening entertainment was an exhibition square dance, with the calls given in Beatnik jargon, which at times proved to be slightly confusing to the dancers.

Also adding to the fun, was an exhibition dance by a square of the graduating group including Carl Sandahl, Chester Domer, Jack Kollanda and Norman Green. Instead of dancing with women, each man had an elaborately dressed broom for a partner.

Among those who received diplomas for completing the beginners' and intermediate classes were: Messrs. and Mesdames Carl Sandahl, Joseph Gunn, Karl Johansson, Dick Ward, Karl Cordy, George Denison, Lewis Champion, Chester Domer, Jack Kollanda, Mrs. Rosemary Magnus, Ross Thornton and Ronnie Wilson.

The following couples attended the intermediate class for a review: Messrs. and Mesdames Norman Green, Toni Webster, Mrs. Trude Mirgon and Wally Henley.

Each graduate received with the diploma, a mortar board with green tassel. These were made by Mrs. Kenneth Miller, who was in charge of the decorations.

After the graduation ceremonies, a money tree was presented to the caller and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sparks, by Mrs. George Denison, on behalf of the class.

Refreshments were served by Messrs. and Mesdames Oscar Olson and Russell Rhoads.

Hartzell PTA Makes Award For Long Service To Youth

Mrs. Robert Adams was awarded an honorary life membership in the California Congress of Parents and Teachers at a recent meeting of the Oliver Hartzell School Parent-Teacher Assn. Mrs. Adams, mother of three children, is a Sunday school teacher at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael, has been active in many community fund drives, is a Camp Fire leader, and a Den Mother in Pack 63.

She became a charter member of Oliver Hartzell P-TA in 1955 and served as music chairman for two years and has just completed her second term as president. The pin was awarded by the honorary life membership committee composed of Mrs. David Bowman, chairman, and a past recipient of the pin, who told of the meaning of the award; Mrs. William Hatcher, who spoke of Mrs. Adams' outstanding service to children, and Mrs. C. R. Richmond, who presented the pin.

The Pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Janna Lee Page and Claudia Masouredis of Girl Scout Troop 235, who also presented to the P-TA a set of embroidered dish towels made by the girls in the troop.

Mrs. Adams announced that the long-awaited tables and benches for noon use are now ready for installation, and that the rummage sales which will raise money to partly pay for this equipment will be held on March 18 and 19 at Fourth and C streets from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Addie Owen gave two aluminum pitchers to the P-TA.

Election of officers for the coming school year was held. Unanimously elected were Mrs. George Beckley, president; Mrs. Howard Wilson, first vice president; Dwight Manning, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Hinze, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Halvorsen, treasurer; and Allison Jopson, auditor.

The program of the evening was entitled "Fun With Music," and Mrs. Charlotte Lindauer, music chairman, introduced the acts: Mrs. Addie Owen, medley on the organ; the "Swami of Swengali," portrayed by "Red" Williams, in a humorous mind-reading skit; Floyd Peterson, vocal solos; Elizabeth Ceseari, piano selections; Diane and C. R. Congdon (father and daughter), instrumentalists; Earle Asceves, vocal solos; Floyd Peterson, violin selections; Bethany Beckman, vocal solos; Barbara, Joe, Lee and Lisa Faustine (a family group) playing and singing; Earle Asceves and Floyd Peterson in a comic duet. The vocalists were accompanied on the piano by Ruth Asceves, and community singing was led by Ethel Vaughn.

The evening ended with refreshments served by the fifth grade room mothers.

CAROL DOTTO TO BE WED ON MAY 8

Mr. and Mrs. Alex G. Dotto of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Gerald W. Nichelini.

The bride-elect, sister of Theodore Dotto of Santa Venetia, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. She is employed with the American Trust Co. in San Francisco.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nichelini of Santa Venetia, was graduated from San Rafael High School. He served two years in the U.S. Army and is now employed by the Standard Oil Co. in Richmond. He is the brother of James Nichelini Jr., of Santa Venetia and Luther Ward Jr. of San Francisco.

The wedding will be an event of May 8 at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo.

Garden Group Readies For April Bazaar

Mrs. W. D. Stuart, of Wilson avenue, has joined the ranks of the many interested gardeners of Novato who are donating their prized roots, bulbs, and plants to the Garden Group of the Novato Community Club for its annual Garden Bazaar to be held at the Brice Market April 7, 8, 9.

Mrs. Stuart's contributions included the dainty pink Japanese anemone; a number of plants of variegated ivy, well rooted and ready to set out; many perennial golden rod and a supply of iris bulbs in several colors.

Among other gifts to the bazaar are 700 samples of the famous Ortho 16-16-8 lawn and garden food.

Mrs. Robin Cannon, bazaar chairman, says that everything to be sold at the bazaar will have come directly from Novato gardens.

Tiburon Shop Marks Birthday

The Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon will say Happy Birthday to itself next month by holding a special one-half price sale starting April 5 and continuing through April 9, according to newly elected president of the Governing Board, Mrs. Leo Sullivan.

The Shop was organized eight years ago on April 7 and has provided a great deal of income for the five member organizations. They are St. Stephen's Guild, St. Hilary's Women's Club, the Reed District Parent Teacher Club, The Southern Marin Recreation Center and the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay.

At the last meeting plans were discussed for a fashion show and luncheon to be held at Rickey's Rancho Rafael on Tuesday, May 10 as one of the Fashion Focus series. Mrs. John Hoefer, recording secretary, is general chairman for the event.

Fourteen models will be selected from the various member organizations of the Shop to appear in the show.

President of the Mothers' Club is Mrs. Willard Davis of Sacramento.

Music Talk For Poets

A talk on music and its relation to the times in which it is composed, was given by Charles Orgibet Sunday night at a meeting of the Activist Poets and their guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Brown of Fairfax. The meeting followed a reading by the poets at the Marin Academy of Music in San Anselmo, where Mr. Orgibet is the director.

Mr. Orgibet said there is too much separation of music and the other arts from the rest of life. "Too much is made of the difference between 'artistic' and 'useful' pursuits," he said. "Where people are free to think they are going to create, whether it's piece of music or a piece of plumbing."

Furthering the idea of greater correlation among the arts, Mr. Orgibet said the Marin Academy of Music plans to sponsor a variety of cultural activities. Classes for adults include Exploring Poetry, taught by Lawrence Hart, along with classes in Exploring Music, taught by Orgibet. In addition to the poetry reading Sunday, an exhibition of the paintings of Waltrina De Bois will be on display at the academy on afternoons daily from 2 to 6, through March.

Mr. Orgibet's talk followed a buffet supper.

Young Churchmen Will Meet Sunday

The Episcopal House of Young Churchmen is holding a convocation meeting tomorrow for all the Episcopal youth groups in Marin County at St. Johns Church in Ross. Experts Warn Nature May Lose Man-Battle In Marin

"Man Vs. Nature in Marvelous Marin."

That was the title of the speech given before the Marin Conservation League last week by DeWitt Nelson, director of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Among the subjects he touched on were the crowding out of agriculture by land development, the increased threat of fire in forest, range and watershed lands, water supply problems, logging control problems, flood hazards and the need of planning land use to provide for recreation in times of even greater population growth ahead.

As the title of his talk suggests, he warned that Marvelous Marin must fight to preserve its natural advantages or see them obliterated by the advances of population growth.

This week, from a different source, we hear a somewhat similar warning.

Al Giddings, the veteran Marin County warden for the state Department of Fish and Game, warns that our natural abundance of salmon and steelhead will be exterminated soon if appropriate measures aren't taken immediately.

He has calculated that of Marin's 100 miles of natural streams where salmon and steelhead spawned, 65 miles have been lost to pollution or to drying-up because dams and storage tanks hold back water that otherwise would keep streams running during dry seasons.

Nelson's speech and Giddings' report had more in common beyond warning about impending losses. Both offered constructive suggestions for "holding the line."

Nelson stressed the necessity for regional planning to control growth.

Giddings says a fish re-planting program begun by the Fish and Game Department could reverse the trend of disappearing salmon and steelhead, among the most prized sports fish. And he suggested controls to stop the destruction of spawning streams and perhaps even restore some presently "lost."

The warnings and the constructive suggestion of both these men deserve the attention of our elected representatives — national, state and local — who are in a position to preserve Marin's natural advantages, or let them be obliterated.

THE PRICE MUST BE PAID

While riding in a taxicab in New York City, a bandit held up his driver, and in the rush to escape left his wallet in the back seat.

A picture of the robber and some laundry tickets found in the wallet clearly identified the man. Police stopped him near the laundry named on the tickets an hour later.

Try as some persons do, they never really succeed in covering up their misdeeds. In one way or another transgressions have a way of backfiring. The day of reckoning turns up sooner or later.

Many conclude that they" get away with it" because they escape punishment temporarily. Few wrongdoers are picked up as quickly as this one, and some may even go through life without getting caught. But none escape the final accounting at the Judgment Seat.

Fill your life with so many good deeds that only the devil will have regrets when you finish your course.

"No thought is hid from Thee."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

TV Watcher Tires Of Commercials

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. .. I wish to do some serious gripeing, along with, I presume, a few million others.

Let us start with our imbecilic, brainwash system of advertising, forced on all who twirl the dials of their TV sets

We are a great nation of intelligent, thinking, people second to none, of all degrees of learning, yet we are constantly placed in the class of underdeveloped morons by highly paid browbeaters, who I believe would lack the courage to say the same things in the way to us if in our homes or in public.

Their object? To cajole us into buying their product; which if worthy most people are already using. . . .

Our advertising system is a great and worthy America institution and is regarded as a means of bringing the customer and producer together on grounds of mutual benefit and with that type of contact we have no argument, or gripe.

On TV, methods are changed. A few maintain standards and ethics. The balance go hog wild in their efforts cram something down your throat, whether you want or have need for it. Compare their hogwash with a good magazine, every other page of which may be an attractive add, yet you don't mind because you are at liberty to do and think for yourself even though you smoke the wrong brand or do or don't drink the wine that's "the one and only." . . .

Yesterday one of the morning half hour programs conducted by one of our well liked M.C.s was apportioned as follows: minute No. 1, donated by the sponsor as a public service; minute No. 2, introduction of program; No. 3, 4 and 5 advertising for sponsor; No. 6 interruption of advertising to tell us the program would start in a moment; No. 7, 8 a message of great importance from the sponsor; No. 9, 10 and 11 interruption to resume program; No. 12 cigarette ad; No. 13, some message from sponsor; No. 14 station identification and five unrelated ads; No. 15 interruption to let us know the program was still on and the second half was being paid for by another sponsor; minutes 16 and 17 ad for an old established product, called the latest boon to housewives; No. 18, 19 and 20, interruption to resume program; No. 21 and 22, demonstration for detergents; No. 23, 24 interruption for program; No. 25 and 26 ad for product my mother used 50 years ago as of my knowledge; No. 27 back to program to let us know time had expired; No. 28, 29 and 30 given up to several unrelated ads.

Actual time devoted to the interest of the viewer were Nos. 9, 10 and 11, Nos. 18, 19 and 20, and 23 and 24, a total of eight minutes.

What can be done about this and kindred situations?

Frankly I don't know, but if enough people gripe, and possibly in other ways let it be known that we are tired to the point of distraction by these conditions; the advertisers and others concerned will realize and begin to think for themselves.

I for one am going to stop using products whose sponsors try to take unfair advantage of us even if it means giving up my favorite brands. Why not try to bring these mighty people; or corporations down to the size of the public they claim to serve.

What are you going to do? What do you say?

Doctors Extend Life Span Too

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I read the letter from Mr. F. Holmboe in the March 14 edition of your paper. I regret the comments made by this gentleman in apparent dispair and anguish.

He states that he raised a family and lost his wife after 55 years of marriage. He has not even considered that these same so-called "doctors who insist on fancy hospitals, etc." are actually the same doctors who have worked endlessly to achieve the medican advances that have made richer, longer life possible for his family.

I merely point this matter to his attention as the remainder of his criticism apparently reflects bitterness over a personal loss. I am sure that other physicians, either of the Marin County Medical Society or my own San Francisco Medical Society would be pleased to convince Mr. Holmboe that our eyes are NOT closed to public needs.

Doctors Should Ponder Letter

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to commend to the Board of Directors of the Marin County Medical Society the letter from Mr. F. Holmboe of Mill Valley published March 14 on the subject of medical care for senior citizens.

This eloquent protest against organized medicine's dereliction of concern for the losing struggle on the part of elderly people to obtain adequate medical care, deserves reflection by all physicians.

No amount of anonymous lobbying or misleading, selfish propaganda will succeed in erasing the statistical verification of unmet medical needs in our aging population. Conscientious physicians should examine the reasons why they are charged so bluntly with being "dedicated to luxurious living, heavy bank accounts . . . elaborate estates and exclusive clubs" and with "closing their eyes to public needs due to their bloated incomes and blunted social conscience."

This is not a fair description of the average, hard-working physician, but an image more accurately applied to those unfeeling and cynical leaders of organized medicine who must be held culpable for the deterioration of the reputation of American medicine.

Fresh, responsible and humane ideas are sorely needed in these times, but there is little prospect that they will be forthcoming from medical societies led by men who deliberately obstruct dissent and scorn inovation.

Mr. Holmboe's impatience and dispair can not be put down as the mere rantings of an irresponsible crank.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Miller Will Work Behind Scenes At The Democratic Convention

By CHAPIN A. DAY

One of the unusual things we observed about the recently announced list of California Democrats pledged to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for president was the absence of Marin's congressman's name, Clement W. Miller.

Miller was the only member of the California Congressional delegation missing, so we dispatched a telegram to Clem asking, "How Come?" This is what he answered:

"Governor Brown invited me to be a member of the California delegation at the national convention in Los Angeles. I declined the appointment.

"The reason is quite direct. My job lies in the First Congressional District where many people, organizations and agencies have asked me for meetings.

"Since declining the invitation, leaders of the California delegation have asked me to help in the proceedings and I will certainly take part in proposals for the conservation plank.

"I am confident that the delegates selected from Marin and the First District are going to do a responsible job in selecting a nominee."

SPEAKING OF the delegation, it seems to us that we haven't seen properly recorded the fact that Marin not only will be represented by four delegates, but will have an alternate delegate as well.

Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, was picked as an alternate of the Brown slate.

Bet there'll be a bunch of other Marinites at the convention one way or another.

MEANWHILE THE RACE for Democratic nomination for the State Assembly seat is getting torrid — four in and a fifth, Nick Kobseff, toying with the idea.

But the California Democratic Council endorsing convention may cool it off in a hurry. Last we heard, it was scheduled March 27 in Petaluma, but there had been so many changes, we wouldn't swear to it.

In any event, Joseph G. Wilson, San Rafael attorney and leading contender for Democratic nomination, has announced he will abide by the convention's decision. He should; they'll probably endorse him.

But his announcement was peculiar in a state which has a primary election to select party candidates. He said: "This endorsing convention will involve all segments of the Democratic Party in the district. . . . I heartily agree with this determination by the CDC to give its endorsement to a nominee after due consideration of all candidates by a broadly representative endorsing convention."

Another one of the candidates, Ed Wachsman of Terra Linda, also indicated he also would drop out if the CDC endorsement goes to someone else.

If the other contenders agree, there will be little use of holding a primary election. The Republicans have only one candidate so far too.

MUST REPORT that Marin's exhibit is back in its case in the lobby of the State Capitol in Sacramento. Not only is it fresh and clean, but two things have been added, a drawing of the new Frank Lloyd Wright civic center, and a model of the Golden Hind.

The ship model gave artist Red Raymond some trouble. He couldn't get a model of Drake's ship so he had to take a model of the Santa Maria and remodel it. It meant changing its bow, sail plan, gun mounts, practically every thing. But he did a fine job.

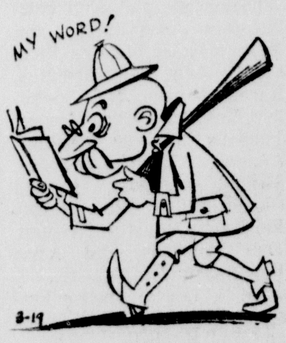
BENNETT CERF

There have been lots of reviews of D. H. Lawrence's controversial novel, "Lady Chatterley's Lover," but none even vaguely comparable to Zd Zern's tongue-in-cheek commentary in Field and Stream Magazine. Noted Zern: "This fictional account of the day-by-day life of an English game keeper will have considerable appeal to a male reader, containing as it does interesting passages on pheasant raising, ways to control vermin, and other chores and duties of the professional gamekeeper. Unfortunately, one is obliged to wade through many pages about illicit love and passion to discover and savor the side lights on the management of an English shooting estate. It is doubted that this book can replace J. R. Miller's 'Practical Gamekeeping'."



Oliver Herford defined winter as the season when suburbanites struggle to keep the house as hot as it was in August when they complained about it. Julius Tannen had another definition for winter: a time when gentlemen befur blondes.

Deer Hunters Lament Advance Of 'Civilization' In Marin Hills

OLD TIME DEER hunters are privately concerned about the rapid annexations that are pushing the frontiers northward from San Rafael.

They tell me the hills overlooking Lucas Valley used to be a hunters paradise, but once it comes within the city limits, there won't be any more hunting.

I guess that's the price of progress. Like the pioneer ranchers who find they can't let cows go wandering into state parks and public highways any more.

THE NEW BARBER shop in the county jail is now complete, except for a barber pole and a full-time barber. The last good man they had has served out his year in jail and left. Here's a warning to all good barbers in the county: Don't get caught staggering along the streets or weaving along the highways. Sheriff's deputies are looking for a good barber. They want a "dependable" man — the type that will come in and stay awhile instead of a "floater" who comes in today and goes out in five days.

The jail barber shop is complete, even to shoe shines. A sign by the mirror says: "Shoe shine, wax or spit."

DONALD T. WOOD, former San Anselmo police chief, is now chasing investors instead of criminals. He's zone manager for Investors Diversified Services Inc., it says here.

Don't let anyone tell you police officers don't pay traffic fines. Here's one, a high-ranking detective, who just forfeited $146 bail on a handful of tickets.

The boy who threw an egg and tore the Rafael Theater screen has learned to his horror that the final bill comes to $775. If you have to pitch eggs at ham actors, it's cheaper to toss them at your own TV screen.

THE BIG DEBATE on parallel parking on Fourth street is set for Monday night at the San Rafael city hall. Al Schmitz of Moore's Stationery took a poll of his customers and came up with this figure: Of 501 customers who signed, 477 want to retain diagonal parking and 24 would go for a change to parallel. That's 95 per cent for leaving the street as it is.

Fourth street is "one long parking area, not a thoroughfare," says Schmitz.

A survey shows that the 255 diagonal spaces on main street would be cut by 60 if changed to parallel. Those who propose parallel hope to make up the loss by putting in off-street parking lots at Fifth and D and at Second and Lindaro.

THE FIRST MAN to walk into the Leon C. Felton agency on Auto Row St. Patrick's day and buy a new car was Mr. Green. And that's no gimmick either. Just ask Frank D. Green of Novato, proud owner of the new car.

Sheriff's Matron Vivian Costigan is quietly observing her 30th anniversary with the sheriff's office today. Will she celebrate? "No," she smiles with a knowing twinkle. She's taken care of too many staggering customers who celebrated on anniversaries.

Courthouse observers swear they've never seen a more efficient resuscitator operator than the fireman who gave first aid to a witness who collapsed during a trial last week. The fireman did the job and got away, but I think it was John Diego.

RUSS-FRENCH BICKERING

Was Khrushchev's Illness Genuine Or Diplomatic?

(Editor's Note: Was Khrushchev's illness real or diplomatic? Henry Shapiro, UPI Moscow bureau manager and dean of the press corps there, is in Paris. In the following dispatch he gives the inside story of the bickering between Moscow and Paris over plans for Khrushchev's visit.)

By HENRY SHAPIRO

PARIS (UPI) — The French proposed and Khrushchev disposed.

The French were made painfully aware, before postponement and shortening of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to France, of his displeasure with the program originally worked out for him by the foreign ministry.

Diplomatic observers in Moscow and the French authorities in Paris have not been inclined to doubt the genuineness of Khrushchev's flu which compelled him last week to leave the Soviet Capital for a brief breather in a Crimean resort.

But the Quai D'Orsay also knew that Khrushchev just was not accepting the gruelling 15-day tour of France it had worked out for him for the visit that was to have begun Tuesday. It is now 11 days, starting next week, and less ambitious.

KHRUSHCHEV'S health is only part of the explanation for his unhappiness with the original French travel plan for him.

Once the Soviets and French accepted that the visit was equally desirable for both sides, the controversy seemed to rage around the question of who was going to exploit whom for propaganda purposes (after the De Gaulle-Khrushchev exchange of views).

President Charles De Gaulle already had more than gratified French national pride by forcing postponement of the East-West summit conference until after his meeting with Khrushchev.

He had thereby established French equality in the Big Four club. He apparently wanted to extract more mileage from the first visit to France of a Russian chief of state since Czarist days.

So, among other things the French offered to take Khrushchev to the Sahara and they hoped to persuade him to visit Algeria, which might give the effect of indirect Russian support of De Gaulle's African policy. They planned to show Khrushchev an Air Force Academy that trains fliers for the African campaign.

The shrewd planners of the Quai D'Orsay arranged a tight schedule which would have kept Khrushchev going nonstop almost around the clock and prevented contact with the French masses. He was to be deprived of any opportunity to meet left-wing trade unions and of addressing the pro-Soviet, Communist-front organization "France-U.S.S.R."

THE SUPER salesman of international communism was not to be given a chance to flaunt the glories of communism to all and sundy as he did in America.

The proud and astute former coal miner, now the ruler of all the Russias, would not be drawn into acceptance of the French plans. He refused to agree to a gruelling Cook's tour which would have confined him to endless sight-seeing.

BIRTHDAY REDEDICATION

Marin Camp Fire Girls will attend their churches tomorrow, first day of their organization's national birthday week, in youthful rededication to the Camp Fire law: "Worship God, Seek Beauty, Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, Be Trustworthy, Hold Onto Health, Glorify Work and Be Happy." Above, Rev. Wayne Hansen, minister of Redwoods Presbyterian Church, Larkspur, welcomes, from left, Cindy, Susan and Patricia Clark, Camp Fire Girl daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clark of Larkspur.

Hub Baptists Set Series Of Meetings

The Rev. Ralph J. Fortune, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Bellflower, will start a week of special meetings at the First Baptist Church of San Anselmo at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Rev. Fortune's theme will be "Christ Is The Answer."

During the week, special music will be provided by Dr. Carlyle Bennett, professor of music at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry. Featured singers will be Miss Claudia Colburn, Mill Valley; Bert Bowes and Mrs. Judy Kennedy, San Rafael, Mrs. Marie Jones and Mrs. Peggy Traeger, San Anselmo.

Also scheduled to sing are church choirs, men's, girls' and women's quartets and trios. Don Lund will be organist, and Mrs. Mazine Chan and Dr. Bennett will play the piano.

St. Anselm's Group Will Host YLI

St. Anselm's Institute will be hostess tomorrow for the annual communion and breakfast for members of the Young Ladies' Institute.

Guest speaker will be Rev. John Magner, S.J., of San Francisco. Joining with the YLI will be members of St. Raphael's Council of the YMI.

The Marin County members join annually for this event. Mass will be at 8 a.m. at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo and the breakfast will follow at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

Chairman of the event is Miss Loretto O'Rourke, assisted by Mrs. Jack Benz and Mrs. Wesley Phelps, president of St. Anselm's.

Baptist Girls Hold Service In San Rafael

The girls' auxiliary of the San Rafael First Baptist Church last Sunday held a service entitled "As in a Garden Fair" at the evening worship hour.

The following were recognized during a coronation ceremony: Beverly Jacobs, maiden; Carol Ann Hough, Linda Pollard and Gloria Hassler, ladies-in-waiting; Joyce Elaine Harropp and Carol Nichols, princesses, and Judith Ann Harropp, queen.

Each girl gave portions of memory work required for various steps in the ceremony and then sang a hymn. Rev. Wallace M. Hough, pastor, led a dedication prayer.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. C. K. Harropp, Mrs. Stan Jacobs and Mrs. Fred Fisher.

Religious Perils

NEW YORK (AP)—Religion, by emphasizing fear and rejection, can cause neurosis, says the Rev. Dr. George C. Anderson, director of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health, and author of a new book, "Man's Right to be Human" (Morrow). He says clergymen can make great contributions to healthy attitudes by stressing traditional religious concepts of forgiveness and understanding.

Witnesses To Attend Session

San Rafael Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a three-day assembly in Petaluma next weekend at the Veterans' Memorial building.

Lester M. Dugan, district representative from the Watchtower Society's world headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the featured speaker at the meeting and will give keynote address, "Finding Peace in this Troubled World," Sunday at 3 p.m.

The colored film, "Divine Will Internationally Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses" will be shown publicly Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Kingdom Hall, 10 Woodland avenue, San Rafael.

Baha'i Faith To Mark New Year

Baha'i, the faith that arose in Iran 117 years ago, will have a new year Monday.

It will be celebrated by Marin County Baha'is and their friends with a dinner and a talk on the meaning of the faith.

The dinner will begin at sunset tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Phillips in Novato.

According to Mrs. Leo Noah, secretary of the Marin group, the observance is held to "further the knowledge of the oneness of religion as the hope that can overcome the feeling of frustration and confusion confronting mankind."

Children Sheltered

TROY, Ala. (AP) — Executives of various child care homes of the Southern Baptist Convention reported here that 6,462 children were cared for at Baptist homes in 1959.

Choir To Sing In Mill Valley

The 23-voice Upland College Choir will give a concert beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

Rev. Edgar Nelson said the choir is composed of students from the Christian Liberal Arts college at Upland, and is directed by Myron Tweed.

Bishop on Newsmen

BOSTON (AP)—The Most Rev. Thomas J. Riley, auxiliary Roman Catholic bishop of Boston, said at a mass for journalists that newspapermen are "educators in the truest sense of the word." The power of the press to make men think, he said, "assures it a permanent place in the development of human society and the progress of human ideas."

ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, March 19, the 79th day of the year, with 287 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1813, Scottish missionary and African explorer David Livingstone was born.

In 1860, William Jennings Bryan, congressman and senator from Nebraska, one time secretary of state and three-time presidential nominee, was born.

In 1906, the Hotel Traymore opened in Atlantic City, N.J. The last word in modern conveniences, it had advertised 25 private baths, capacity 450.

In 1920, the U.S. rejected the Versailles Treaty providing for a League of Nations.

A thought for today: William Jennings Bryan said: "The humblest citizen in all the land, when clad in the armor of a righteous cause, is stronger than all the hosts of error."

Cal Slight Choice Over Hot-Shot Buckeyes Tonight

California's Golden Bears aim for a second straight NCAA basketball title against an underdog Ohio State club tonight after turning back Cincinnati and its great Oscar Robertson.

The Bears won their semi-final 77-69 last night. Earlier Ohio State romped to a 76-54 triumph over the Violets of New York University.

NYU and Cincinnati meet in a consolation game tonight.

Only three times before have teams won two national collegiate cage titles in a row—Oklahoma A & M in 1945-46, Kentucky in 1948-49 and San Francisco in 1955-56.

California went into the Cincinnati game as three-point favorites and will be the choice by that much or more tonight at the Cow Palace despite the high scoring Buckeye offense that led the nation with a 91.6 average.

Last night Cincinnati and California played a near repetition of their semi-final last year when the Bears limited Robertson to 19 points. This time he scored only four field goals, but added 10 from the free throw line for a total of 18—far below his 34.3 season average.

California's 6-foot-10 center, All-America Darrall Imhoff, turned in one of the greatest games of his life. He scored 25 points and led the comeback after Cincinnati held a 20-11 lead early in the game. Teammate Bill McClintock tallied 18 and like Darrall proved a demon on defense.

Tandy Gillis was the man guarding Robertson, but Coach Pete Newell said later all of his team watched the big O when he had the ball.

"I'm glad we don't have to play against Oscar anymore," said Pete. "His assists must have set up at least 35 points. We jammed up on him in the first half. We had to overplay Oscar so much they got a man loose."

Newell made no predictions on his game against Ohio State tonight except to say the Buckeyes had "one of the best Big Ten teams I've seen in a long time."

They showed it in jumping to an 8-0 lead against NYU and never falling behind. All-American Jerry Lucas and unsung play-maker Larry Siegfried led the attack with 19 points each.

"Lucas is further along than Cincinnati's sophomore Paul Hogue on both moves and shots," Newell observed. "He has all the shots that a senior center has."

Lucas at 6-8 made the All-America team this season as a sophomore.

NYU closed to within two points late in the first half, but with Lucas showing the way, the Buckeyes pulled to a 37-28 halftime advantage.

California proved exceptionally hot at the free throw line sinking its first 21 attempts and finishing with 25 of 32. Cincinnati sank 17 of 23. Both clubs hit 26 field goals.

"It's like I said," commented Cincinnati Coach George Smith, "the game would be decided by fouls, free throws and breaks. We got the fouls and they got the free throws and breaks."

Hogue fouled out with nine minutes to go, but even then the Bears led 60-50. Robertson, Gillis and Imhoff finished with four personals apiece.

The triumph was the 19th straight for California.

DRESSING ROOM INTERVIEWS

Pep Talk Sparked Big Rally; Smith—'Cal Got Breaks'

A pep talk during a first half timeout paid big dividends for California's defending national champs, finalists in tonight's NCAA basketball title game.

The score was 20-11 favoring Cincinnati last night when Cal Coach Pete Newell called time and told his crew:

"We've got to stick our chins out a little. We need more initiative on offense, more aggressiveness on defense.

The Bears responded, led 34-30 at halftime and won 77-69.

They meet Ohio State, Big Ten champs who swamped New York University 76-54, tonight in the Cow Palace.

The Bears held Oscar Robertson, three time All-America and the nation's leading scorer, to only four field goals and a total 18 points.

But Newell said the 6-5 star was responsible for at least 35 points.

"You quake every time he gets the ball," Newell said in the jubilant Cal dressing room. "That boy is everything he's described as, and more."

Although the opening semi-final was a comparative breather—Ohio State led 37-28 at halftime—Coach Fred Taylor said his Buckeyes didn't play up to their usual standard.

"We didn't run as well as we should, and we can't afford to give the ball away as much as we did," Taylor said.

All-America Jerry Lucas, a poised 6-8 sophomore, scored 19 points as did Larry Siegfried, the Buckeye playmaker.

"Lucas played a great defensive game," Taylor added, while Siegfried and Dick Furry (who scored 10 quick points in the second half) made the difference in breaking open the game.

Cincinnati Coach George Smith, loser now to California two years running in an NCAA semifinal, said it was foul shots, fouls and breaks that made the difference.

"We got the fouls, they got the free throws and breaks," Smith declared.

HOT SHOOTING

The Bears, who earlier this year had trouble at the foul line, hit their first 21 one-pointers and wound up with 25 of 32 charity tosses.

Paul Hogue, a 6-8 sophomore, fouled out with nine minutes left and Robertson collected his third foul before the end of the first half.

"We missed enough easy layups to win," Smith said. "It seemed we couldn't get a break. But I'm not taking anything away from California. They defensed us as well as any team all season."

For NYU, the sleeper in the tournment, it was a case of plenty of shooting but not much accuracy. The New Yorkers sank only 21 field goals in 74 shots.

"We were getting the shots, but we couldn't do anything with them," said Coach Lou Rossini. "We just weren't hitting."

California now has a 28-1 record while Cincinnati dropped to 27-2. Ohio State is 24-3, NYU 22-4.

Lausse Wins Thriller, Make Take On Basilio

NEW YORK (AP) — An Eduardo Lausse-Carmen Basilio middleweight "natural" was in the works today following the Argentine's sensational return to the U.S. ring.

The 32-year-old South American champion celebrated his first fight in the United States in four years last night by stopping strong Wilfie Greaves, the Canadian ruler, in 1:33 of the fourth round of a television thriller at Madison Square Garden.

Only a few minutes after Referee Ruby Goldstein intervened to save Greaves from injury, matchmaker Teddy Brenner proposed the Lausse-Basilio match.

"It would draw over $100,000 off TV," said Brenner to Charley Johnston, Lausse's American co-manager. "It's as good as any title fight."

He didn't need any selling job on Johnston who promptly said, "Let's make it. I'm offering $100,000 to either the winner of the Ray Robinson-Paul Pender and the Gene Fullmer-Joey Giardello title fights to take on Lausse. Eddy wants one more fight before fighting for the championship and Basilio would be fine."

Pender is the New York-Massachusetts champion and Fullmer is the NBA-recognized champion.

"I might just take it," said Basilio. He was in the Garden to handle his lightweight protege Dick DiVeronica of Syracuse. Dick outpointed Tommy Pachecho in an eight-round prelim.

Lausse was a little rusty and wild at times but he kept swinging away with his potent left hook. One of them finally turned the trick early in the fourth round. The punch caught Wilfie on the head and staggered him. That was the beginning of the end.

A right and left to the jaw then dropped the husky blond for eight. When he arose on wobbling legs, Lausse let him have it with both barrels. He was about to fall again when Goldstein stopped the rout.

It was the first time Greaves, 24, had been stopped in 45 pro fights, Lausse, who had won 11 of his 13 fights in the United States from 1953 to 1956, racked up his 15th straight victory and his 65th knockout.

Stilt Hurts Hand In Fight With Boston Star Heinsohn

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain finally got mad and it could cost the Philadelphia Warriors their chance to win the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern championship.

The 250-pound Chamberlain left for Boston last night, his right hand swatched in bandages. It was injured in a fist fight with Boston's Tom Heinsohn after the two collided in the first period of last night's 115-110 Philadelphia victory.

"It hurts and it's swollen," said the 7-foot-1 giant.

The two teams, now tied 1-1, meet in Boston in the third of the best-of-seven game series.

The fight between Chamberlain and the 6-7, 220-pound Heinsohn was the highlight of a rugged battle between the two Eastern rivals before a record Convention Hall crowd of 12,581.

Chamberlain charged after the former Holy Cross flash, his fists flailing. They stood toe-to-toe and slugged it out until players of both teams, the officials and police broke it up.

Chamberlain has charged all season he was being roughed. His coach, Neil Johnston, has shouted himself hoarse to The Stilt to fight back. He finally did and it may be the most costly fighting back of the year for Johnston and his crew. It's no secret that without Chamberlain, the Warriors resemble the last-place team of 1959.

Heinsohn charged that Chamberlain was as guilty of roughing as anyone else in the league.

Chamberlain collected 29 points. Heinsohn's 26 were high for the Celtics.

Tam Swim Team Edges Carlmont High, 50-45

Tamalpais High School's undefeated swimming team edged Carlmont High 50-45 yesterday in a practice meet at Tam.

Tam's winners were: Bob Mosher, 50-yard freestyle, 25.2 seconds; Bob Scott, 100 butterfly, 1:03.9; Jeff McCreary, 100 back, 1:07.1; Rick Snow, 200 individual medley, 2:26.6; 200 medley relay (McCreary, Kirk Laurie, Ken Schultz, Bill Emerson), 1:58.4.

Tam's Tony DePrado set two school records in Class B — 29.1 in the 50 butterfly and 1:09.4 in the 100 individual medley.

MARIN BOWLING NEWS

Singles Tourney To Aid Crippled Kids

Marin County's bowlers will come to the aid of the Marin Society for Crippled Children starting Monday by participating in a benefit singles handicap tournament at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Open to men and women, the tournament will continue through May 22. More than 100 merchandise prizes have been donated by local merchants.

Tournament Chairman Frank Keaton announced that $1 of every $2.50 entry fee will be donated to the Crippled Children Society.

ED AHRENS of the Ross Grocery team sandwiched a sparkling 244 between 192 and 189 for a 625 series in the Thursday night Mixed Doubles League at Country Club. Runner-up honors were shared by Ed Smith and Sam Manheimer, each with 552. Smith's series included a 213.

DAVE BRYDEN, who packs a 163 average, mixed up the lumber to the sweet tune of 624 in the Business and Professional Handicap Trio recently. His lines were 200, 215 and 209.

MARILYN EPIDENDIO banged out a 507 this week in Greenbrae's Ladies Handicap. Her high game was 176, but top honors in the solo department went to Dorothy Baune with her 190. Other team leaders were Lou Ahrens 485, Dorothy Baune 460, Betty Daniele 447, Julie Smith 445, Sharon Benson 443, Pat Yeager 428, Donna Westlund 417, Muriel DeLasaux 404 and Jan Trenchard 400.

JEANNE BLUMENFELD had a 180 high in her 479 series in the opening of the Coffee Cuppers' summer league at Greenbrae.

In the same league Marge Pattalochi "climbed the ladder" with a series that went like this: 123, 124, 125.

GENE CHAON, former pro baseball star, shot a 520, featuring a 212, to lead last week's Men's Foursome at Greenbrae.

JEAN TAYLOR'S 208 was highlight of this week's Hits and Mrs. League at Greenbrae. Team leaders in series scoring were Claire Wagner 476, Doris Bauman 470, Lil Laybourn 466, Jean Taylor 447, Andie Clark 443, Corina Bacigalupi 435, Lil Krigbaum 394 and Irene Cicanese 379.

DIXIE HOWELL DIES AT 40

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Millard Fillmore "Dixie" Howell, former major league pitcher, was stricken by a fatal heart attack yesterday shortly after a spring training workout with the Indianapolis Indians. Howell, 40, died at a hospital a few hours after the attack. He had pitched for the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Novato Spikemen Win 3-Way Meet

Sprinter Bill Henderson and hurdler Don Klopperich each won a pair of events yesterday to lead Novato High's track and field squad to victory over St. Vincent's of Vallejo and Benicia. Scores were Novato 58½, St. Vincent's 41 and Benicia 40½.

Henderson won the 100-yard dash in 10.7 seconds and the 220 in 23.6 while Klopperich was clocked at 16.8 in the 120 high hurdles and 22.4 in the 180 lows.

Other Novato winners were Jeff Mareck in the discus, 106 feet 4 inches, Joe McNern in the 440 at 53 seconds and the 880 relay team of McNern, Jim Sewell, Mike Stafford and Henderson. Their time was 1:39.

Novato placed second in the Class B meet with three winners—Ron Witcel in the 660 run, 1:38.1; Mike Fleming in the 1320 at 3:45.7 and Rick Whitney in the broad jump at 17-4.

Sagues Wins Pair, But Drake Swimmers Lose

Pete Sagues won the 50 and 200-yard freestyle races in 24.4 seconds and 2 minutes, 13.9 seconds, but Drake High swimming team suffered a 46-35 setback to St. Ignatius in a practice meet this week.

Other Drake winners were Jim Dawson in the 100 free, 59.8, —ohn Hendry in the 100 breaststroke, 1:12.8 and the 200-yard medley relay team in 2:01.9.

Four Giants Get Special Help To Snap Bat Slump

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants face the Cleveland Indians in a Cactus League game here tonight, but the Giants were talking today about the quartet they left behind.

Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Eddie Bressoud and Don Blasingame stayed at Phoenix for some intensive hitting instructions from the Giants' special batting coach, Lefty O'Doul.

Since all four are regulars, Manager Bill Rigney declared it was high time the lads find out just what's ailing them and correct it.

Mays and Bressoud started training with some keen belting, but they've stalled and sputtered of late. Cepeda showed up late, but he was supposed to have been in good shape after playing winter ball in Puerto Rico.

Blasingame, who came to the Giants in an off-season trade with the St. Louis Cardinals, is being counted on as San Francisco's lead-off man, but so far he's gone hitless in 17 exhibition appearances at the plate.

None of the four played yesterday and their collective absence showed in the result—a 5-2 defeat at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Sam Jones, the ace of the Giants' pitching staff last year, was soundly thumped. Big Sam walked three, gave up five hits and allowed three runs in the four innings he worked. Joe Shipley and Billy Loes followed. Loes gave up the final two runs, both unearned, in the seventh.

An error by Andre Rodgers and three Cub singles accounted for Chicago's seventh-inning pair. Frank Thomas and Ed Neeman homered in the fourth to hand Jones the defeat, though.

It was the Cubs' first Cactus League victory after five losses. The Giants are now 4-2 in exhibition play.

Johnny Antonelli will pitch tonight against the Indians. The Giants and Indians meet here again tomorrow.

Sets World Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan set a world record of 5.9 seconds for the 50-yard indoor high hurdles at Cleveland's Knights of Columbus Games yesterday.

Frosh Smashes 26-Year Old Marin Record

In 1934 a talented athlete named Arnold Nutting high jumped 6 feet, 2½ inches to set a College of Marin record.

Yesterday, after withstanding a 26-year challenge, that record was finally smashed to pieces by a human pogo stick named Ray Nickleberry, a Marin freshman from Oxnard, Calif.

In a four-way meet at Vallejo, Nickleberry cleared 6-7¾—and it was only his first competitive outing of the season. "Wait until he gets warmed up," enthused Coach Harry Pieper.

The former record-holder Nutting is now a prominent Marin County physician. After Marin he went on to track stardom at University of California.

Marin coaches feel Nickleberry is a cinch to better his record later in the season. Last season he won the California High School championship with a leap of 6-8½.

Nickleberry stands 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 185 pounds. He recently led Marin to the Golden Valley Conference basketball championship and was picked on the All-Conference team.

In yesterday's meet he was Marin's only winner, although hurdler Jim Henderson placed second in both low and high events.

Redwood Cagers Feted At Banquet

Ernie Bray and Wayne Berry walked off with top honors Wednesday night at the Redwood High School varsity basketball awards dinner at the Meadow Club.

Bray was awarded the school's captain's blanket and Berry received the Senior Scholastic Trophy for maintaining the highest scholastic average through four years.

Merit certificates were given to Bray, Berry, Jim Lonsford, Rich Brear, Roger Siemens, Jim Wylie, Don Bowen, Mike Kavanagh and Mike Hoffman. Managers awards went to Kent Shew and John Groth.

Guest speaker was Cal Riemcke, head coach of the Champion College of Marin Tars.

Ifs And Buts Cloud Picture As Far As Giants' Title Chances Concerned

CONNOLLY

One of these days you'll get a complete roundup from baseball writers all over the National League, on the merits of the SF Giants.

Some of 'em will pick them to corral the pennant and others will count them second, third and possibly a few might say they'll rank fourth.

To this correspondent there isn't any way anyone can pick the Giants unless they are writing an "IF" and "BUT" column. You either have to say they go all the way, or you have to pick on them as a club easily crippled and not possessing enough outfielders, infielders or catchers to constitute a championship club.

A champion has to have depth. The Giants lack depth on the bench, they lack depth in the infield and outfield, they lack depth in the receiving department.

Catchers are worth their weight in gold. And there isn't a college or semi-pro backstop who wouldn't ask $100,000 or more to sign. One such creature by the name of Hall lives near Phoenix.

FREDDIE HOFFMAN, the old Mission manager and Baltimore scout, made a special trip there the other evening to see him perform. In fact, Hoffman thinks he has the inside on the deal.

Wid Mathews, the Milwaukee scout who was hanging around Phoenix for 10 days, admits he has seen the player and would buy him for whatever price his boss will agree to. I point out this to prove my point on the shortage of catchers in every league. So if the Giants have to get a catcher, he can't be a bonus baby. Hobie Landrith and Bob Schmidt are usable now. So Hank Sauer, Giant scout, has a tough job to find anybody who can help out the Giants.

Catching, I believe, presents Manager Bill Rigney's chief worry.

But the outfield depth is also annoying.

Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and Felipe Alou are the chief mainstays. A fifth and probably a sixth flychaser for reserve purposes is needed.

TO GET A PLAYER who can sit on the bench and be available for pinch hitting duties, without playing too much, is a real tough assignment. Sauer realizes it, but claims the Giants have enough promising young pitchers to use in a trade for the type needed by Rigney.

Then we come to the infield reserves.

Infield worries concern the durability of Jimmy Davenport, and the fielding ability of Willie McCovey, who may or may not be another Babe Ruth at bat. But he could also be a coal heaver on a wax floor as a fielder. He has the tools, but he needs a little "noodle practice." He may get it.

Don Blasingame at second base has relief in case of emergency with Danny O'Connell and Joe Amalfitano. The latter looks good. Nobody in particular thinks too much of O'Connell's ability. They rate him tops in the personality and brain department. Eddie Bressoud at shortstop is considered a fixture and he's durable.

I BELIEVE O'Connell could be the saviour of the Rigney 1960 infield. But that depends on how much of a chance he gets to play.

If Amalfitano and Andre Rodgers come ahead of him, he could go to seed raising a crop of bunions on the seat of his pants.

Rodgers would be an ideal utility man if he could only pack the Phoenix ball orchard with him. He looks great, hitting long and hard and his fielding and throwing is hard to believe. But off his performance of 1959 he leaves a doubt in everybody's mind. But tab him for future reference, as the turf pickers say.

If all the hopes and predictions of players in camp are fulfilled, there is no way you can count the Giants out of being an all-season-long flag contender with a great chance to win.

Where it once was all a matter of pitching and hitting, it now poses a problem of having pitching and adequate power, but no depth.

Hawaii Wants To Adopt The Giants

HONOLULU (UPI) — The Hawaiian House of Representatives has passed unanimously a resolution which would make the San Francisco Giants its official baseball team in the major leagues.

The lawmakers' interest seemed to stem from the fact that the Giant games were the only ones broadcast live into Hawaii last season.

Cochrane To Coach

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Cochrane, one of the greatest players ever to wear a Detroit baseball uniform, has been hired by the Tigers as a special instructor here for minor league players. Cochrane, one of the game's greatest catchers, will work mainly with the young backstops.

Mantle's Knee Better

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The clinical report on Mickey Mantle's ailing knee was encouraging today. Dr. Sydney Gaynor, team physician for the New York Yankees, said the swelling has gone down and the star outfielder is able to do some jogging.

Rosburg Beats Monti

LA QUINTA, Calif. (AP)—Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, who has pocketed $12,500 in a TV All-Star golf series, beat Los Angeles' Eric Monti 2 up yesterday at the La Quinta Country Club. ABC-TV will show the films next fall.

Radio Panel Discusses Problem Of Alcoholism

Alcoholism in Marin appears to be rising, and at present the only semi-organized program combatting it is Alcoholics Anonymous. This was the consensus of four speakers on Thursday's Marin Sounding Board over KTIM, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer.

"What is being done for alcoholism in Marin?" was discussed by psychiatrist Samuel T. D. Anderson of San Rafael, Rev. Wesley Baker, minister of the First Presbyterian church of San Rafael, and two members of AA, identified only as Jack and Laurie. The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Jack, who said he had been in state institutions twice and many times in the San Francisco psychiatric ward, pointed out that alcoholism is recognized as a disease by leading medical authorities, and that it can only be arrested, not cured. He has been on the AA program for 13 years.

He called it "an iceberg disease," with only 3 per cent of its victims visible on the nation's "Skid Rows," contrary to popular belief. Of an estimated five million alcoholics in the nation, he said, 90 per cent are "alcoholics with assets," some very wealthy.

Dr. Anderson pointed out that there was little way to estimate the number of persons treated for the disease by private physicians, because of pathological conditions possibly induced by excessive drinking, but not going on the record as directly caused by it.

The psychiatrist noted that there are three main types of alcoholics: those using drink as a crutch, those reaching "habituation," and those "whose souls are seized by addition, comparable to narcotics addiction."

Laurie, "for 16 years a social drinker," said she gradually slipped into compulsive drinking, and went to AA three years ago just in time to avoid losing her husband and young daughter. Her liver had been affected when she finally gave in, she said.

"I feel I'm lucky," she said, "in being one of those who, in her thirties, admitted she was powerless over alcohol."

Rev. Baker said the churches are a "fellowship of people with varying problems," and said he felt that AA is a supplement to the fellowship of the church in the specialized problem of drink. He noted that two national seminaries are located in Marin, as a source of "religious specialists" for referral of problems drinkers.

No Complaint Filed Yet In Crash Case

No complaint has been filed as yet against Thomas E. Porter, 22, of Pt. Reyes, suspected of running away after a head-on collision near Olema Thursday night.

Porter was caught in Albany and brought before Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday. He appeared in court with bandages from injuries suffered in the accident. Two women in the other car were seriously hurt. They are Mrs. Dora Juanita Conkle, 35, and Mrs. Evelyn C. Piazk, 34, both of Forest Knolls. Marin General Hospital said today that the condition of each was only fair.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth said no complaint was filed yesterday, pending further investigation and a complete report from the highway patrol officers. Porter was therefore released. Roth said that when a complete report is turned in, the district attorney intends to file a felony hit-run complaint against Porter.

Monte Maria Unit To Meet Quarterly

The Monte Maria Improvement Assn. will meet in the future on a quarterly basis with the next membership meeting set for July 12, it was decided Thursday night at the association's first meeting of 1960.

E. Donald King was appointed liaison between the association and the Novato City Council and will appear before the council on April 5 to turn over the files of the Monte Maria Community Services District to the city.

The district, which will remain in effect for three years in name only, will be administered by the council in as much as the city incorporated since formation of the district.

The association's pending suit against John Novak, Novato contractor, over allegedly defective showers in the subdivision's homes also came up for discussion last night.

Clarence Tucker, association president, reported that the association's and Novak's attorneys are scheduled to appear in court next week for the setting of a date for the case.

Planners To Meet In Belvedere Hall

Belvedere Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Belvedere Community Hall to consider the city council's request to recommend on whether the subdivision ordinance should be amended to allow a subdivision with houses built on pilings.

The Belvedere council earlier this month referred the decision to the planning commission when City Atty. William H. MacKay ruled that, according to the subdivision ordinance, "it is illegal to build on dangerous or inundated lands."

The subdivider, Belvedere Properties Inc., extended the deadline for city council approval or disapproval until the regular April 4 meeting of the council, planning commission chairman George Goddard said.

Final Tryouts Slated For Play In Tiburon

Final tryouts for the Cove Players' production of "An Inspector Calls" will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at 112 Main street in Tiburon.

The cast contains seven parts, for three women and four men: two women in their 50s and one in her early 20s, and male roles include two in their 50s and one in the 20-30 age range.

Muir Woods Group Sets Meeting Date

The Muir Woods Improvement Assn. will commence meeting on the third Friday of the month instead of once every two months, it was decided at last night's meeting.

The monthly meeting schedule will be put on a trial basis temporarily, said Margaret Hardy, secretary.

The pros and cons of fluoridation will be discussed by two speakers yet to be named at next month's meeting. The April meeting has been moved back one week because of the Easter holiday, said Miss Hardy.

Members also voted last night to donate funds individually to the building fund for the new clubhouse, and appointed Mrs. Richard Heimann to establish a ladies' auxiliary to meet at the clubhouse.

Novato Summer School Forms Being Mailed

Application forms for Novato Unified School District summer school sessions are being mailed today to parents of third through 12th grade youngsters, Supt. William J. J. Smith announced.

Opening and closing dates for the summer classes have not been determined by the trustees, Smith said. The proposed program, however, will probably extend over a five-week period from June 27 to July 29.

Application forms are being sent out to determine if a sufficient number of students desire to take part in the program and if teachers are available for the classes requested.

Street Meeting

Larkspur's city manager Ronald Piper is to give full details on possible plans and costs for abating Redwood High School's traffic menaces at 8 p.m., Monday, at a meeting of the Tamalpais School District board and home owners of Heather Gardens in the high school administration building.

RARE HISTORIC PHOTOS TODAY IN MAGAZINE

Featured in today's issue of your Marin Magazine is a collection of rare historic photographs from early-day Marin.

The photos are taken from a 64-page commemorative souvenir book prepared by the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. for the formal opening of that firm's new home next weekend at 990 Fifth avenue in San Rafael.

Marin old-timers will find that the photos will stimulate the recollection of many a scene and incident which occurred decades ago. More recent Marinites, on the other hand, will be interested in the opportunity to "bone up" a bit on just what their home county was like before and just after the turn of the century.

Hub City Sues For Ruling On Firehouse

San Anselmo filed suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday to get a court ruling on whether it is legal to have a non-profit corporation build its second firehouse, then lease the firehouse with a 20-year option to buy.

City Atty. John G. Buresh filed petition for a writ of mandamus for the city to force Mayor Arthur W. Smith to sign the lease agreements. By prearrangement, the mayor on Feb. 9 refused to sign the leases so that a court ruling could be obtained.

The city owns a firehouse site on Butterfield road at Arroyo avenue. The council, in a 3 to 2 vote, decided to lease the site to the San Anselmo Fire Station Building Corp., have the company build the firehouse, then lease the firehouse back, with a 20-year option to buy. Under the agreement, the option to buy cannot be exercised prior to 1973.

The low bid for building the firehouse was just over $47,000. However, the cost to the city would be more than $124,000 over the 20-year period.

Hub Contractors To Plant Shrubs Along Highway

Watkin and Sibbald Landscape Contractors of San Anselmo have been awarded a contract to landscape Highway 101 between Corte Madera Creek and Richardson Bay Bridge, it was announced today by the State Dept. of Public Works in Sacramento.

The $52,466 contract calls for planting of 2,300 pine and redwood trees and 3,400 toyan and oleander shrubs for the 3.7 miles in and near Corte Madera.

E. Kent Sibbald, one of the owners of the firm, said planting would probably begin during the first week in April. The contract calls for 40 working days for planting followed by 90 days of maintenance, Sibbold said.

Golden Gate Wing Chief Will Head Airlift Exercise

Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore, commander of the 349th Troop Carrier (Golden Gate) Wing has been named airlift commander for the reserve airborne exercise, Brightstar-Pinecone III, to be held in August in the Ft. Bragg, N. C. area.

An entire pentomic airborne division will be airlifted simultaneously and moved rapidly into a simulated battle area.

There are 176 vacancies in the ranks of the Golden Gate Wing that must be filled by reserve personnel before the summer maneuver. Interested persons may obtain information from wing headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Big City Census Jobs Unclaimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Census enumerator jobs are going begging in the nation's big cities.

Officials disclosed yesterday the average pay of $65 a week, the drudgery involved, and a tough qualifying test are making it hard to hire enough enumerators in urban areas.

Sausalito Fire Brings Lawsuit

Owners of a pottery shop, destroyed by the Madden and Lewis boat works fire in Sausalito Wednesday night, are suing the boatbuilding firm for $31,000.

David and Helen Morris, who operated La Paz Stoneware, filed suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against J. H. Madden, A. E. Lewis, and Catherine Bassford, co-partners in the boatbuilding company.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris, who made and sold ceramics, allege that the Madden and Lewis firm was negligent in allowing greasy rags, oils, paint, and scraps to accumulate in the building.

The Morrises seek $16,000 special damages, $5,000 general damages, and $10,000 exemplary damages. They contend they lost all their possessions, materials, equipment, and $500 per month income from their shop.

Meanwhile, the Marin County chapter of the American Red Cross, which provided clothing for the Morris family, has issued an appeal for a two-bedroom apartment for the family. The Morrises are staying with friends in Kentfield.

Mother Saves Infant's Life

Life was breathed back into a half-smothered infant by its frantic mother yesterday afternoon during a dash to San Rafael General Hospital by police car.

Mrs. Marjory Marie Cotton, 5 Meadow way, phoned police for help, and rushed out to patrolman John Rosentangle's car with her 15-months-old son, Bailey Steven Cotton.

As the car sped to the hospital, Mrs. Cotton breathed into the child's mouth. Rosentangle's report credited her with keeping the child alive during the trip before hospital assistance completed resuscitation.

Mrs. Cotton said the baby was put to bed with a cold, and that a blanket had accidentally fallen over the child's face.

MARIN UNITS TO BE IN S. F. PARADE

Ah sure and it will be more than a little showin' of the green tomorrow as San Francisco's annual St. Patrick's Day parade steps out from the Ferry Building, moving up Market street, at 1:30 p.m.

The San Rafael Military Academy band, colors and cadets will march in Military Division Two forming on the south side of Market street between First and Spear streets

Members of the Novato Fire Dept. will be on parade in Division Four, forming on the east side of Fremont street between Market and Harrison streets.

Barn To Be Youth Center

Remodeling of the Red Barn in Point Reyes into the West Marin Youth and Community Center is scheduled to begin immediately, it was announced by the West Marin Lions Club.

The Lions agreed at their last meeting to enter into the first stages of the remodeling, hoping for completion in time for the West Marin Junior Livestock Show in June.

Plans include addition of a livestock exhibition barn on the west side of the building and remodeling of the east wing into club room, kitchen and rest room facilities.

Summer Session To Open June 22

Summer school session in the Tamalpais Union High School District for 1960 will run from June 22 through July 22, it has been announced by Principal Harry G. Russell.

The terms begins on the Wednesday following the close of the regular session, instead of on the first Monday of summer vacation as has been the case in the past, Russell pointed out.

The schedule of classes to be held on the Tamalpais, Sir Francis Drake and Redwood campuses is not yet complete. Application forms for summer school are being prepared, Russell said.

Council Hopefuls Of Corte Madera Speak Tomorrow

Corte Madera voters will have an opportunity to meet two of their town council candidates, Jack I. Miller and Kenneth G. Hoag, at an open house from noon to 6 p.m., tomorrow, in Hoag's insurance offices at 5643 Paradise drive.

Miller and Hoag, running for council as a "team" slate in the April 12 municipal election, are planning the event in behalf of their candidacies.

Food and refreshments will be served, and music will be provided by the Mill Valley recorders, a 20-piece ensemble. Paintings by Barbara Carpenter, Mill Valley artist, will be on display.

Law Firm To Move Monday

The San Rafael law firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini will move its offices Monday from the Freitas Building to the top floor of the new Marin County Savings and Loan Building at 960 Fifth avenue at Court street, San Rafael.

Former Superior Court Judge Carlos R. Freitas, founder of the firm in 1924, has five partners — Walter F. Freitas, S. J. Hugh Allen, Bryan R. McCarthy and Richard V. Bettini. Law associates are Jay R. MacMahon and C. John Bernt.

The firm will occupy 3,500 square feet on the top floor of the new building, which is completely air conditioned and considered one of the most modern structures in Marin County. Richard Hein specified interior layout of the law offices and interior decoration was by Elizabeth Banning.

Widow Files Suit Against Hospital

A $20,000 damage suit was filed against Ross General Hospital and several John Does yesterday by the widow of a Kentfield man who died on July 29 of last year.

Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, widow of Arvid Johnson, 69, filed the suit in Marin Superior Court. She is represented by the San Rafael legal firm of Pease, Vallarino and Wolters.

According to the complaint, Johnson went to the hospital for treatment in March last year. He had a previous injury and was partially paralyzed. Mrs. Johnson alleges that Johnson was left in the washroom unattended, and he slipped and fell while trying to get back to his bed alone. She says his injuries were aggravated by the fall, and he died on July 29. She charges negligence and carelessness on the part of the hospital and its attendants.

Piling Bulkhead Permit Asked

J. C. Tinkler of 16 Harbor View court, San Rafael, has applied for a permit to build a piling bulkhead and yacht float in front of his home on San Rafael creek.

Tinkler, who seeks the permit from the San Francisco U. S. Army Engineer District, says he is building the float in order to have a deep water landing for his sailboat. He said it will also be for purposes of property improvement.

Col. John S. Harnett, District Engineer said that any person opposed to the development may submit, in writing and in triplicate, their reasons to the district not later than April 15, 1960.

Ships Collide Near Golden Gate Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An outbound Japanese freighter collided today with an inbound Navy auxiliary vessel under tow in dense fog just inside the Golden Gate Bridge.

The Coast Guard reported no one was injured and neither vessel required assistance.

The Japanese ship was the 5,465-ton Shigaharu Maru of the Shinnihon Line, Yokohama. She was enroute to Los Angeles and East Coast ports when the collision occurred.

The auxiliary was the converted Liberty Ship Hooper Island. It was being towed by the Navy tug Cree from San Diego to the Navy's "mothball fleet" near Suisun.

The Shigaharu Maru was damaged high up on its bow and the Hooper Island was damaged on her starboard side.

The Japanese vessel returned to port here, but the tug continued on to Suisun Bay at the north end of San Francisco Bay with its tow.

William Morrissey of the San Francisco Marine Exchange said visibility was zero under the bridge at the time of the collision. Mariners must depend on fog horns in such circumstances, he said. Radar often is inoperable at close distances, he added.

Marin Man Plans Pony Express Fete

Col. Waddell F. Smith of 75 Margarita drive, San Rafael, was in North Platte, Neb., today making final plans in his capacity as chairman of the national Pony Express centennial ride next July between Sacramento and St. Joseph, Mo.

He said so many riders are anxious to go that each of about 1,000 will travel no more than four miles on a route 1,966 miles long. Starts will be simultaneous from each end of the line July 19, each rider taking 930 letters in a 20-pound pouch.

Following the original route with slight variations, the riders will be on the road nine days through Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and California. A special stamp is being issued.

Scouts Visiting Mare Island

Thirty Marin Council Boy Scouts are at Mare Island this weekend for the annual spring assembly of the "Order of the Arrow," an association of honor scouts.

The order is made up of Boy Scouts and Explorers elected by their fellow scouts as best living up to the scouting ideals, said David A. Rice, scout executive.

Rice said that while the Scouts are at Mare Island they will tour the Navy's training installations, and view an atomic submarine under construction there.

Smog Control Bill Supported

SANTA ANA (AP) — A bill that would require installation of exhaust control devices on all new cars sold in the state has been endorsed by the Southern California Air Pollution coordinating Council.

The council urges the County Supervisors Assn. of California, sponsor of the bill, "to carry through in all possible ways the successful adoption of this measure."

Five counties are represented on the council.

Groundbreaking Held For Fairchild Building

Official groundbreaking ceremonies were held yesterday at the site of the new Fairchild Semi-Conductor Corp. plant just north of the Terra Linda intersection on Highway 101.

Dr. Robert N. Noyce, vice president and general manager of the firm, said the plant will go into operation next fall and by the end of this year will have 300 employees. By the end of 1961, he said, he expects the growth of the diode market will result in increased production requiring 1,000 employees. (Diodes are utilized as high sweed switches in electronic computers.)

He said Fairchild selected San Rafael as the site of its new plant because of the cooperation and encouragement received from city and county officials, the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin County Industrial Development Foundation.

Chairman Walter Castro of the county board of supervisors and Mayor John McInnis of San Rafael welcomed the Fairchild firm on behalf of county and city. McInnis noted that for the past 100 years San Rafael and Marin County have been known as highly desirable residential areas; now, he said, they are coming to be known as desirable locations for "the finest types of industry and we of San Rafael are delighted."

President Fred F. Enemark of the development foundation acted as master of ceremonies for the event. After the groundbreaking, the 75 participants met at Rickey's Rancho Rafael for lunch.

Scouts Pick Chairman For Building Search

Sidney Braverman of 14 Twin Oaks avenue, San Rafael, a San Anselmo businessman, has been appointed chairman of a development committee to provide a new Marin Council Boy Scout headquarters building.

Dr. David G. Schmidt, president of the council, said chairmen will soon be announced for two other development committees to work on Camp Tamarancho in Marin County near Fairfax, and Camp Marin-Sierra in the high Sierra near Emigrant Gap.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Turks Get Submarine

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The USS Mapiro yesterday was the first submarine on the Pacific Coast to be transferred to the Republic of Turkey under the U.S. mutual assistance program.

Formal ceremonies were held at the San Francisco naval shipyard.

Ceylon Votes Today

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI)—Ceylon's 3,760,000 voters cast their ballots today in an election to replace the government of assassinated Premier S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike after six months of a caretaker regime.

There are 23 political parties with 900 candidates entered for the 151 seats in the lower house, and there is a strong possibility that no party will gain a clear majority.

The basic issue at stake is whether Ceylon will choose a conservative government or swing to a leftist regime pledged to nationalize foreign-owned tea and rubber plantations.

Bomb Hoax Arrest

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested Peter Wilson Askew, 25, of Skaneateles, N.Y., early today for falsely reporting a bomb was aboard an airliner bound from New York to Washington and New Orleans.

The plane landed without incident at Washington.

Jailed Drunks Freed

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Eighty prisoners were freed from the Santa Clara County Jail yesterday because of a recent court ruling that the "common drunk" section of the state vagrancy law is unconstitutional.

The release was ordered by Dist. Atty. Louis P. Bergna after conferences with judges and police officials. The prisoners were serving 90-day sentences.

The California Supreme Court held March 8 that the law section listing "every common drunk" as a vagrant is too vague.

Wanted Man Nabbed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hunted as one of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's 10 most wanted criminals, Kenneth Ray Lawson surrendered meekly here last night after nearly a year on the run.

Mexican police arrested the 32-year-old Tennessee convict on the outskirts of Mexico City. He is to be turned over to U.S. authorities today.

Lawson escaped from the Tennessee State Penitentiary April 22, 1958, while serving a sentence for burglary and aggravated assault.

'Hot' Needle Hunted

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A needle containing radioactive cobalt 60 is missing from the Kansas City General Hospital safe.

Dr. John W. Barry, radiologist, warned that exposure to the needle could result in burns, illness and even death. It is used to treat cancer.

Dr. Barry expressed belief the needle was dropped somewhere in the hospital treatment area.

Screen Talk Fails

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another meeting is expected early next week between the striking Screen Actors Guild and the major movie studios.

Negotiators met yesterday, but reported little progress in the 11-day strike.

The guild seeks a pension plan and a share in the profits from the sale of post-1948 movies to television.

Mental Hospital Burns

KURUME, Japan (AP) — Fire today destroyed a mental hospital here killing 11 persons. Another was reported missing and presumed dead.

Swallows On Schedule

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (UPI)—The swallows—right on schedule — returned to San Juan Capistrano Mission today.

The birds began arriving shortly before daybreak and the early ones immediately began working on new nests.

A crowd of some 500 curious onlookers waited outside the mission gates in the early morning for them to be opened.

Cowboy Star Ailing

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Cowboy star Roy Rogers, feeling "pretty run down," plans to cut short a personal appearance tour upon the advice of doctors concerned over his health.

Physicians warned the 48-year-old singer-horseman yesterday he must take it easy or they would not accept responsibility for his condition.

Rogers and his wife, Dale Evans, canceled plans for a tour covering three Canadian cities, six state fairs and a tentatively scheduled NBC television show in May.

Castro's Fall Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The former Cuban naval attache at the embassy here predicts that Premier Fidel Castro's government will fall by September.

Lt. Cmdr. Miguel F. Pons, who resigned Thursday after denouncing Castro, said the premier would be overthrown "when the people of Cuba realize he's not able to offer what he's been promising."

SGT. WALTER LINDMAN
Retirement nears

Veteran Police Sergeant To Retire Soon

Sgt. Walter Lindman, police officer in San Rafael for 20 years, is ready to retire, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa disclosed today. Lindman's retirement will go to the city council for acceptance.

Sergeant Lindman, who has just passed the age of 60, wants to spend more time at home, Chief Chiesa announced.

"The sergeant has been here for 20 years and all that time has been a loyal and efficient officer," Chief Chiesa declared. "I sincerely regret losing his services, but like all of us who are looking forward to having more leisure time, I wish him the best of everything during his retirement."

Lindman joined the San Rafael police force in 1939. For the past few years, he has been working as meter officer and later as sergeant in charge of the traffic detail. He and his wife live at 510 Belle avenue.

Hunters Fined For Violating Game Law

Four Marin County duck hunters were fined $50 each and a fifth drew a $25 penalty before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh in San Francisco yesterday after pleading guilty to charges that they attempted to take ducks over a baited area.

They were part of a group of nine Bay Area executives, the other four being fined $50 each. The larger fines went to those identified as members of Jack Zander's Shooting Pond Club, six miles south of Napa in Napa County, and the smaller fine was granted because the defendant was a guest.

Those fined $50 were Jack Zander, San Rafael beer distributor; Clifford Cox, San Rafael restaurant owner; Robert Grey, San Rafael drug store executive, and Albert Tognoli, San Rafael real estate broker.

The guest enjoying the $25 rate was Jerome Duffy, San Rafael attorney.

Fines of $100 each were asked by Asst. U.S. Atty. Donald Constine, who advised that in some comparable cases fines ranging from $200 down to $50 had been levied. But Karesh found precedents with fines on a somewhat lower scale.

The nine were charged in a complaint filed Feb. 24 and based on a federal migratory bird act involving a "petty offense."

No allegation was made in the complaint that the defendants knew that the area was baited. Constine said that the men had only to be present in a baited area to be cited.

210 Make Honor Roll

A total of 210 students made the honor roll at Sir Francis Drake High School based on fall academic achievement. A B average is required, but more than one C will disqualify a person.

Tam District Philosphy Of Education Outlined

A concise statement of what Tamalpais Union High School District is trying to accomplish in its schools will be submitted to the district board for approval Monday night.

It was prepared by the "philosophy of education" subcomtee of the district curriculum council after an 18-month study. Curriculum and administrative councils have approved it.

PREFACE

"A statement of educational philosophy is important," the subcommittee declares in a brief preface," because it states the basic values which guide the formulation of educational policy and practice in the district. This statement seeks to fulfill that purpose, while leaving open the way for desirable experiment and venture."

Seven "basic assumptions" are listed in the statement, as follows:

ASSUMPTIONS

"1. The American way of life is founded upon a belief in the inherent dignity and value of every individual.

"2. The public school is an integral feature of the American way of life, and cannot be understood out of this context.

"3. Americans hold that individuals are educable in varying degrees and that all, regardless of race, creed or color, have the right to the opportunity to learn and should be encouraged to the limits of their potential.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

"4. The effective conduct of public affairs in our way of life depends upon the development of informed, competent, loyal and responsible citizens.

"5. Our very survival, in the years of international challenge, depends upon the maximum educational development of the individual potential of every American boy and girl.

"6. The American public school, therefore, must provide the means, through its educational program, to promote the maximum educational development of each individual child, both for his own sake and the sake of the public welfare.

FULFILL NEEDS

"7. The schools of the Tamalpais Union High School District must provide an educational program, designed for the youth of the district, which is consistent with these assumptions and which fulfills the social and individual needs implicit in the foregoing statements."

Each of the district's schools, the statement continues, must provide:

(1) "A basic program of instruction for all students in fundamental knowledge, skills and attitudes; (2) "Special programs which are designed to meet the particular academic and vocational needs of each student"; (3) "Varied elective courses which are designed to satisfy individual interests or needs"; (4) "Out-of-class activities designed to supplement the formal course offerings of the school," and (5) "A plan for the guidance of each student so that he may gain maximum benefit from the opportunities made available to him by the school."

The statement, which contains a breakdown of each of the above "must" programs, will be submitted to the board of trustees by Robert D. Torrey, chairman of the curriculum council. The board will convene at 8 p. m. in the district office at Redwood High School, Larkspur.

Members of the philosophy of education subcommittee, composed of parents, teachers and district officials, are Bruce McCoy, Robert H. Prather, Jack J. Craemer, Norman Goldstein, Maurine Ballard, Mrs. S. M. Dorinson and Mrs. Frank Solinsky.

Local Firm Sponsors Architects Dinner

Rice Supply Co., Inc., of San Rafael is co-sponsor of a dinner meeting of northern California architects at the Olympic Club in San Francisco Monday with Dr. Donald H. Clark of the University of Washington, authority on use and preservation of western red cedar, as speaker.

WONDER IF HE MIGHT NEED AN ASSISTANT?

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI) —Prince Philip, known for his candid comments at official functions, yesterday accepted the lord high stewardship of Plymouth with the comment:

"One is left with the impression that this position has no duties. This suits me admirably and I only hope that no one tries to think of any."

San Geronimo Unit To Elect Monday

Nomination and election of 1960 officers for the San Geronimo Valley Assn. will be held at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Lagunitas School.

Dr. Paul T. Wilson of the life science department at the College of Marin will speak on the advantages of joining the Pt. Reyes National Seashore Foundation and show a motion picture on the subject.

San Geronimo Valley Horsemens' Assn. members will also attend the meeting, according to Mrs. R. M. Vilas, director.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Education Expenses May Be Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Expenses for education are deductible if you qualify.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Peter J. Wikel

Expenses for education are deductible if such education is undertaken primarily for the purpose of (1) maintaining or improving skills required by the taxpayer in the performance of the duties of his employment when the educational expense was incurred, or (2) meeting express requirements of the taxpayer's employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations imposed as a condition for the retention by the taxpayer of his salary, status, or employment.

On the other hand, expenditures or education are not deductible if the primary purpose for which the education is undertaken is to obtain a new position or a substantial advancement in position or is the fulfilling of the general educational aspirations or other personal purpose of the taxpayer.

Moreover, in any case, if the education is required in order for the taxpayer to meet the minimum requirements for qualification or establishment in his intended trade or business or specialty, the expense of such education is not deductible.

Junior Prom Slated

The Sir Francis Drake High School junior prom is to be held at Ricky's Rancho Rafael, May 14. This will be the first time the dance is restricted to juniors and seniors; previously the entire student body could attend. "Beyond the Sea" will be the dance theme.

No Matter How You Make The Trip, Las Vegas Is Quite An Experience

IT'S TOO MUCH for me. I'm beat.

Five miles of the Las Vegas "strip" left me worn to a frazzle, gasping for breath, and checking various and sundry funds earmarked for the house, car and Uncle Sam to see if I was still solvent.

This last step wasn't really necessary because I only made the trip by proxy through the pages of the March issue of Playboy magazine. The account nevertheless was so realistic I might just as well have been on the spot and had my empty pockets to show for it.

My friend Gerd Stern of Sausalito who did the story, says it took him 10 days to make the rounds. It took me exactly 28 minutes including time to ogle the well-developed, chromatic cheesecake.

HE EITHER had a better view or was loafing on the job.

I know now why they call this belt of temptation the "strip."

In all fairness to Gerd he must have kept his mind on his work to come up with such a comprehensive article. Probably he didn't once telegraph Playboy for additional expenses.

I can just see me on an assignment like this. The third day out I'd have wired the editor:

"CAN SUPPLY EXTRA TWO THOUSAND WORDS ON HOW TO BEAT THE ROULETTE WHEEL. RUSH ADVANCE TO GET TYPEWRITER OUT OF HOCK AND WRITE STORY."

You didn't know, did you, that our family has handed down through several generations a system to make alfalfa out of roulette?

ONE OF MY early forebears Francois Duchequet, was part French and part Indian. As far as we know he was the one who thought of it.

Being half Indian he had great respect for the variable magnetic attraction exerted on movable objects during its many phases by the moon. It was his theory that during the full moon, particularly the harvest moon of the autumnal equinox, the odds favor red. When in conjunction with the sun (dark of the moon) the chances are better on black. Odds of the in-between stages are considerably less and at half-moon are about even money.

I never heard that Francois or his descendents ever made a big killing on this magic formula but it's no loonier than some others devised to encourage lady luck. Use it if you like but I refuse to pay half your losses.

Anyone contemplating a holiday in Vegas would do well to brush up on its more authentic odds and ends by reading Gerd's article which also deals with the city's many affiliated attractions, big name shows, Mademoiselles a la Nue, dining, hotel accommodations and most important a price guide to cover everything except your own good sense — or lack of it.

"HOW MUCH did YOU win in side-money on this little escapade?" I asked him. "Don't tell me you didn't make a few passes with the dice or stand on twenty in Blackjack."

"The answer to that is irrelevant, immaterial and you wouldn't believe me," he grinned. "Make your own four-way test. Play the tables, take in the shows, eat well and have fun — but I can give you a little advice."

"What's that?" I wanted to know.

"Don't count your chips before they're cashed."

His Formula: Work Hard, Don't Worry

That, Says Dr. Sawyer, Is Secret Of Longevity

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

In a life which began on a Vermont farm almost 90 years ago, Dr. Fred E. Sawyer of San Rafael has crammed so many experiences and made a living in such a multiplicity of ways he could provide material for half a dozen or more interesting biographies. But he shows none of the strain of the years. He retains the same zest for living, warm smile, soft voice and twinkling eyes which have endeared him to thousands through the years.

The Sawyer farm at Leister, Addison County, had been in the family since before the Revolutionary War and was on the old Lord York grant. Two log houses on it had been burned and the frame house in which Dr. Sawyer, his father and grandfather were born, was built in 1797.

Dr. Sawyer's father, Francis (Frank), had run away from home when he was 17 and shipped on a whaler at New Bedford. When the captain changed his mind on reaching the Hawaiian Islands and decided to go to Alaska, Frank and several of the other men deserted ship and sailed in a small boat on the Pacific for five days. They were picked up by a trader and went to Borneo and several other islands, and then to Australia. Frank worked for a while in the Bendigo and Ballaratt gold mines and then shipped on a vessel going to London for the first World's Exhibition, and carrying the largest plank in the world.

Polluted water had been taken aboard and when the ship reached Cape Town in South Africa, Frank and many other sailors were sick. He was cared for in an English Marine hospital and, after he regained his health, he stayed for a while working as a carpenter's helper. That was the time the British troops were going into Zululand. Few returned. Nearly all the men were killed by poisoned arrows.

FRANK TOOK TO the sea again. This time he sailed on a ship carrying the first colonists to New Zealand, landing at Port Lyttleton, seaport for Christ Church. He worked in Wickersham Bush whipsawing lumber and then, when the owner found he had worked on a farm, he had him drive a four ox team. Three of the oxen died and Frank went back to Australia.

The rumor circulated that gold could be "picked up" at the head of the Amazon so, with 40 miners he sailed for South America, landing at Callas, the seaport for Lima, Peru, where yellow fever was prevalent. When the men were outfitted and on their way over the Andes, Frank was stricken with yellow fever. He was left in an Indian's hut. The Indian, with his native remedies, saved Frank's life.

His health returned, Frank went back to Lima to clerk in a hotel. Then he met one of his old shipmates, who had been on the whaler and was working sewing sacks to make enough money to go to California. Together they arrived in this state in 1852. He found work as a millwright in Amador County. After 14 years he was homesick so back to the Vermont farm he went. His father was ill and Frank stayed to take over the farm work with the help of his brothers. In 1869 he married Adelaide Allen, a Vermont school teacher.

Fred, the eldest child, was born on Jan. 24, 1871. His brother, Augustus A. Sawyer, who has made his home with Dr. Sawyer since the death of his wife, is a couple of years younger.

They remember the fun they had as small boys, playing in the meadows, watching the cattle and horses graze. But particularly they loved the maple sugar season.

"We had 10 acres of sugar-wood. The trees were about a hundred years old. Father said we had a superior syrup because of our good land," Dr. Sawyer said. He recalled how the trees were tapped in the spring and buckets put under the cuts. "When the buckets were nearly full, the men would take a sled with barrels into the wood. The men wore neck yokes, a bucket on each side, and went from tree to tree gathering the sugar sap," Dr. Sawyer went on to describe how the sap was heated in pans over a furnace to make it into a syrup.

ANOTHER VIVID memory of early days is the way lye was made on the farm. "There were always a couple of barrels of wood ashes and from time to time father would pour buckets of water in them. The liquid drained on to a board and then into a bucket. This leaching gave us lye for soap-making."

Frank Sawyer was dissatisfied with life on the farm. His father had died, and he wanted to return to California with his wife and sons. In 1877 he and his brother, Stephen, took on the job of bringing Merino sheep to California in boxcars. "These were about the first pure-bred Merinos in California," Dr. Sawyer said.

This venture was successful, so Stephen returned to Vermont and sold the farm, and the Sawyer family was on the way to California. The train trip took a week. Dr. Sawyer remembers the train being stopped on the plains because of a huge herd of buffaloes crossing the tracks.

On arrival in San Francisco the family stayed for a couple of days at the Occidental Hotel on Bush street. A young couple had a liking for small Fred and took him to the Bush Street Theater. He was entranced with the first show he ever attended.

Frank Sawyer had a job with the Southern Pacific in West Oakland and he moved his family to Oakland. The boys attended school there. Fred had a paper route — his pay $5 a month. When he got out of grammar school he went to work on a dairy ranch at 42nd and Broadway. In the morning he milked 15 cows and then went out on the milk route. For this he was paid $15 a month. His next job was in the railroad yards. It was a nine-hour work day. The starting pay was 15 cents an hour. It was later raised to 22½ cents.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER catches Dr. Fred E. Sawyer in front of his home at 211 G street, San Rafael. This house has been his home since 1897, two years after he came to San Rafael to engage in dental practice. The delightful old dwelling was built by Isaac Shaver way back in 1873.

FRED SAWYER decided he wanted to be a dentist, so in 1891 he was an apprentice in the Oakland office of Dr. I. S. Halsey. The doctor was the father of the late Dr. Norman S. Halsey, who practiced dentistry in San Rafael for many years. Dr. Sawyer took special courses at night.

Neighbors and other friends wanted the budding dentist to work on their teeth, so he bought a barber's chair and put it in the parlor of his home. With a little equipment he began to practice his newly acquired skills. He remembers well the first re-plantation work he did. In later years he had many successful cases in this type of dentistry. A boy had fallen and knocked out his upper front teeth. He had two or three in his pocket and the rest were hanging loose when he came to Dr. Sawyer.

He remembered what Dr. Halsey had done in such cases and followed the procedure. After a year in the Oakland office Dr. Sawyer studied at the University of California Dental College at Taylor and Market. The students went to Toland Hall, the medical college in North Beach, to dissect the cadavers.

At the dental college the students worked on the teeth of people who had no money to pay for the services of a professional. Dr. Sawyer and a friend decided they could make money "on the side." They rented a room in the Chester House, put in the old barber chair, and solicited dental patients. On Saturdays and Sundays they did extractions and fillings at low cost.

IN 1893 THE dental college added three additional vacation months to make the opening of the fall term coincide with that at the university. Dr. Sawyer and a fellow student, Oscar Fitch, made plans for those six months. They built two dental chairs and left for Arizona. Oscar took his chair and went to Mecca to set up a dental office, Dr. Sawyer went to Tucson for the same purpose. He had been there a month when he was offered a job with Wells Fargo as a messenger on a run from Benson, Ariz., to Guaymas in Mexico.

He was debating during the summer whether to go to Chicago and get a job for the World's Fair or return to dental college, when Belle Hanford, a girl he had known in Oakland since he was a boy of 11, came to visit her sister, Mrs. Edward Crum in Tucson. Belle's father, James M. Hanford, for whom the town of Hanford, Calif., was named, was the only paymaster the Southern Pacific had ever had. He held the position for 42 years. It didn't take much talking on Belle's part to make Dr. Sawyer decide to return to dental college. He was graduated in June of 1895 and passed the state board examinations.

Tragedy and happiness marked that year for him. In August his father died, and in October Belle and Dr. Sawyer were married at the home of her parents. He had already opened a dental office in the Peter Building in San Rafael which had just been completed the year before and he brought his bride to San Rafael.

And why did he come to San Rafael?

"Oscar Fitch said there was a good opening here for another dentist, as there were only two at the time. Oscar, whose father, O. P. Fitch, and Fred Carroll had an express business in San Rafael, wasn't interested in a practice here. I came over and spent a week with Oscar, and then rented the office."

Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer lived first in a rented house. In 1897 they bought the large and fine looking home at 211 G street, where Dr. Sawyer still resides. Here the Sawyers reared their three sons, Earl,

Dr. Fred Sawyer Finds Life Exciting And Eventful

Wilbur and Francis, and their daughter, Liveria (Mrs. William Dittman).

THE COMMUNITY was small and the dental practice was the same. One of the reasons, Dr. Sawyer's explains, "The week I opened my office, three other dentists came to town."

Dr. Sawyer was not a man to sit around waiting for patients. "In 1897 on every other Sunday I would hire a double team and rig, put in the dental chair (the same one Oscar and I had made) and at 7 a.m. would start for Olema. I had a room in the hotel there and, with my chair set up, I was ready for patients. I did a big business. People came from miles around. Many of these had never been to a dentist before and needed work badly. I remember one young woman of a wealthy family. I extracted 22 of her teeth in one day. I made my own dental plates, crowns and bars for strengthening teeth."

Business was improved too in the San Rafael office, but Dr. Sawyer decided to make a change.

"I was getting tired of dental work. It was interesting but too confining. Sometimes I would lock the office and go duck hunting. The fishing was good in San Anselmo creek and I went dove hunting in San Anselmo."

In 1902 Dr. Sawyer was the Republican candidate for coroner and public administrator. "Those were the days of the county conventions when the 'big wheels' in the parties had things pretty much their way. I got a list of delegates and then drove to all parts of the county to talk with them. I made many friends and in the convention I was the 'dark horse' who was nominated instead of the incumbent."

Dr. Sawyer was elected and took office in 1903. He opened a funeral parlor on Fourth street on the north side of the block between C and D, and hired an embalmer from San Francisco. "I learned the business and when Dr. W. J. Wickman moved from his house on Fourth street on the south side of Fourth between D and E, I moved the parlors there. The third move I made was to the large Wickman house on Fourth at the northwest corner of E. Dr. Wickman had died and I leased it from Mrs. Wickman."

BY THIS TIME the business was highly successful and Dr. Sawyer had been re-elected coroner and public administrator at every election. But at the end of 17 years, Dr. Sawyer decided on an entirely new way of life.

"The boys had grown up and they didn't like the (undertaking) business. I sold the funeral parlors to J. Ray Keaton and Fred Dusel, and in January of 1920 I resigned from the office of coronor and public administrator, asking the supervisors to appoint Ray Keaton, my successor, which they did.

"I bought a pear orchard near Placerville. It had young trees on it and the yield was small. I had a chance to sell after I'd been there a year. I did and came back to San Rafael. I bought a ranch in Novato. Earl and Wilbur worked with me on the ranch, Francis and Liveria were going to college."

But Dr. Sawyer was again bitten by the political "bug." He was a candidate for county assessor. Elected in 1922, he served two terms. He was then appointed superintendent of the Marin County Farm at Lucas Valley, a position he held for a year and a half. He resigned to go into the claw machine business in Stockton. With all these moves Mrs. Sawyer remained at the San Rafael home. She would spend weekends with her husband when he was away, but her interests were in San Rafael with her church, her family and her home, the house Isaac Shaver had built in 1873.

Dr. Sawyer returned to San Rafael when the supervisors appointed him to fill the unexpired term caused by death of the county assessor, Gus Pacheco, in 1935. The country life still had its appeal and Dr. Sawyer took a job on the 10,000 acre Murphy ranch at Pt. Reyes which he held until he saw a business opportunity in San Rafael.

This was a small newsstand on Fourth street. The young man who had established it died and Ray Keaton, as public administrator, was in charge of the stand. It was operating at a loss and Dr. Sawyer offered to run it. Mr. Keaton agreed and a short time after this, Dr. Sawyer offered to buy the stand, paying only the cost of the goods, according to the inventory.

THIS WAS IN 1938 and for three years, Dr. Sawyer ran the business by himself, working 14 hours a day, seven days a week. The stand was popular and the shop was enlarged. Earl Sawyer went into business with his father in 1946 and in 1950 Dr. Sawyer and his son, Wilbur, opened a stand in Santa Rosa.. This is now operated by Wilbur. Dr. Sawyer retired from business in 1956 and Earl sold the San Rafael stand, which had been moved to a new location on Fourth in 1959.

However, Dr. Sawyer finds plenty to keep him occupied and his mind busy. He drives his car, shopping and visiting friends. And he has hundreds of these as was plain to be seen when he was honored by his daughter and her husband and his sons and their wives at an "at home" on his 89th birthday in January. The house on G street was jam packed for the occasion.

His greatest pleasure in his earlier years was fishing and hunting but ruefully he admits "the hills are getting too steep for me now." Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in 1955. Her death two years later was a great sorrow.

Dr. Sawyer is the only living charter member of San Rafael Lodge No. 1108, B.P.O.E. He is a 60-year member of Marin Lodge No. 191, F. and A.M. and is a member of Mira Monte Camp, W.O.W., the Foresters and Eagles.

And to what does Dr. Sawyer attribute his longevity and good health?"

"Hard work when I was young, never worrying, being temperate in all things, and getting as much joy out of daily life as possible."

MR. AND MRS. Fred E. Sawyer were childhood sweethearts. This picture was taken back in 1888 when they were 17. They were married in 1895.

His Aim: The Bible In Kru

Seminary Student First To Put His Tongue In Writing

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Augustus Marwieh, known to his friends as Gus, is the first person to reduce his language to the written form. His language is Kru.

Marwieh, who is from Sinoe, Liberia, is studying at the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary on Strawberry Point from which he plans to be graduated April 29.

He expects to return to Africa in November to teach his people how to read and write. In addition, he hopes to set up a school to train young people so that they may train others to read and write.

Another desire, Marwieh says, is to translate the Bible into Kru when he gets home. "It will take about 10 years," he says.

MARWIEH CAME to the seminary in 1953 where he is studying for his master's degree in religious education. He first came to the U. S. in 1954 to study Spanish, French and natural sciences at the University of California.

Then he transferred to Simpson Bible College in San Francisco where he received his degree in Biblical education. During three of his summer vacations he pursued linguistic studies at the Summer Institute of Linguistics of the University of Oklahoma at Shawnee.

"I was actually taught the principles of reducing any written language to writing at Shawnee," Marwieh says. It took one year to learn the technique, he adds, and two summers to do the work on the Kru language.

Kru, Marwieh says, is phonetically written. It has separable verbs, as in German, Marwieh says, and it is like Chinese in its intonations. For example, he explains, one word which might be spelled "gbaw" in English means four different Kru words with the only change being in the tune of the word.

"Gbak" means forest, floor, cabbage and carry him. Kru language, the student says, has about 22 regular tenses as compared to six regular tenses in English. Kru has about 21 vowels, Marwieh added.

BESIDES teaching his people the written language when he returns home, Marwieh hopes to tell them about the Bible, which he plans to render into written Kru.

Marwieh says "the population of Liberia is about 2,750,000. English is the official language but only a small percentage, including some 20,000 descendants of American slaves, read or write it."

"The others," he adds, "members of 23 tribes, all have their own languages, of which only three have been reduced to written form." The language of the Kru tribe, of which Marwieh is a member, includes nine distinct dialects. Marwieh has succeeded in reducing his own dialect to written form, and plans to tackle the other dialects when he returns to Liberia.

Mrs. Eliza Davis-George, a missionary of the Nationalist Baptist Convention in Liberia, has been very helpful in assisting Marwieh in his education. She arranged for him to go to elementary and high school. With the help of the Elizabeth Native Interior Mission Fellowship of Oakland, she arranged for him to come to the U.S. for further education.

In addition, notes Marwieh, Mrs. Davis-George gave him a birthday. "I was brought to Mrs. Davis-George," Marwieh says, "at the death of my parents. She did not think it good that I should be 'ageless' and after sizing me up and doing some juggling with figures, arbitrarily fixed my birthdate at April 30, 1933."

Marwieh, who lives in Truitt Hall, a dormitory on the campus, preaches on occasion at churches in the Bay Area.

Regarding his stay at the seminary, he says, "My feelings are mixed. I am looking forward to the opportunity of working for my own people, but I am reluctant to leave behind the friends that I have made at the seminary and elsewhere. They will always be an inspiration to me because of their Christian concern for me and my people."

GOLDEN GATE Baptist Theological Seminary student Augustus (Gus) Marwieh from Liberia works over an intricate verbal chart as he reduces his tribal language, Kru, into written form — the first time this task has ever been accomplished. Upon his return to his native country in Africa, Gus plans to translate the Bible into Kru. (Independent-Journal photo)

People who really enjoy good music and have listened to a high quality music system made from Components immediately recognize the superiority of a Component System. However, some people have been reluctant about getting individual Components, and then picking out appropriate furniture because the overall cost would be beyond their music system budget. At last, we are happy to announce that we have in stock a beautiful 3-piece walnut system at a price that is unbelievable.

This smart new set of walnut cabinets is available in kit form. Fresh, timely, contemporary styling, with every feature of design and manufacture to meet the highest standards of furniture craftsmanship. The double-interlock mitre joints with the practical and functional step by step instruction books make assembly enjoyable and interesting.

The three individual cabinets can be purchased separately or as a group. Each carefully designed speaker enclosure costs only $49.95, and the four-foot equipment cabinet costs only $89.95. No swinging doors, the TAMBOUR DOORS roll back and disappear inside the cabinet. If you wish we even have a walnut bench kit for $39.95 that will support all three units giving a beautiful 8-foot long stereo group. Visit our sound room and see this prestige furniture completely assembled. You will be amazed and delighted, for now you can have the rich, vibrant quality of a component music system plus the rich, luxurious beauty of hand-crafted walnut furniture at a price you can afford.

There's Rhythm In Every Young Body

So Believes Dance Co-op Instructor

By JOAN PIER

Students in the Marin Dance Co-operatives study rhythm and musical forms through instruments and song as well as with body movement.

"I believe an understanding of music is a necessary part of children's dance experience," says Ann Halprin, performing artist and teacher.

Mrs. Halprin, wife of landscape architect Lawrence Halprin of Kentfield, is the founder and director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera and Ross Valley Dance Cooperatives.

Illinois-born, Mrs. Halprin is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, first school to offer a dance major degree, and has studied under Martha Graham, Hanya Holm, Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman, and was associated with the Humphrey-Weidman Company.

Before coming to California she was in the Broadway musical, "Sing Out, Sweet Land," and appeared as soloist in the 1955 season of American dance at the ANTA Theater in New York, as the only non-New Yorker to participate. That same year she toured Israel with lecture demonstration on the modern dance.

In 1956 she soloed with the San Francisco Symphony at Stern Grove, and the following year she took part in the Pacific West Coast Arts Festival at Portland.

She and the lively Marin Dance Cooperatives program have had much to do in making Marin a widely recognized center for modern dance in the West.

Discussing her approach to teaching dance, Ann says the children explore musical patterns in many ways. With woodblocks, drums, bells and cymbal they form a percussion orchestra and take turns conducting with their moving bodies. Sometimes the orchestra improves a rhythmic pattern for a dancer to follow.

ALL CHILDREN have the capacity to discover their own rhythm, Mrs. Halprin believes. "They can learn to create beautiful rhythmic movement and a willingness to explore its many forms."

TO UNDERSTAND the dance the child must also understand the music. That's the theory of Mrs. Ann Halprin, Marin Dance Co-operatives teacher. Here a couple of tykes listen closely to catch the "over-tones" from a kettle drum. Other musical instruments also play a key part in the dance instruction of these children. (Photos by Ernest Braun)

RELAXATION is important if the children are to truly listen to the music and feel it in their bodies. Here some 4 and 5 year olds do just that while an instrumentalist plays for them.

THE DISCOVERY THAT there is a rhythmic beat in their bodies is an exciting experience for the small child, Mrs. Ann Halprin, dance instructor, says. Note the happy faces of these youngsters as they make that discovery.

Music Understanding Vital To Dance Class of their movements." They walk, hop, skip run or gallop —fast or slow, gently or with vigor—responding to music. They learn to interpret many instruments and improvise movements inspired by the trill of a clarinet, the crash of a gong or the beat of drums.

These children are also helped to find their natural rhythm through exercises, Mrs. Halprin says. "They stretch, relax, feel their bodies heavy or light and learn to coordinate their simple movements."

A great deal of rhythmic movement should be done without music "to train the body to discover its rhythmic capacities," she says.

Music too, should be experienced alone for its own sake to increase understanding, she believes. "When music and movement come together as collaborators they are then capable to inspire, guide, and intensify mutual expression."

"WE ALSO use poetry, painting and nature exhibits to show the inter-relationship of the arts and how they can provide ideas for new dances for I believe children should understand art as an integrated experience."

The Marin dance co-ops, organized 12 years ago by a group of parents on a non-profit basis, offer dance classes to a greater number of people at more levels of dance experience than any other place in the country.

"Their main purpose," Mrs. Halprin explains, "is to encourage students to understand the value of dance as art experience and to provide the most qualified faculty at a minimum cost."

The classes for pre-school and elementary grade boys and girls are the beginning of the dance training which is offered. There are classes for pre-teen-agers, more concerned with poise and body conditioning than dance, and a teen-age group studying technique and composition.

Adults, many of them housewives, dance in the San Rafael Adult Group, while the Dancers' Workshop, composed of professional teachers and performing artists, make up the faculty of all Bay Area Dance Cooperatives.

A YOUNG DANCER romps through some spontaneous steps as she provides her own music with a tambourine. And it all comes naturally.

Tips on Purchase and Home Care of Your Wardrobe

By BERT BROWN, Marin Cleaners of San Rafael and Bel Air

"Are Imported Fabrics Up to Our Standards?"

This is a timely question. International trade brings not only fabrics but many other products into this country. The fashions, fabrics and colors are very attractive and the glamour of foreign labels appeal to us all. However, foreign manufacturers do not all meet our standards for color-fastness and cleanability.

Typical, were complaints heard not long ago about Italian tweed suits. Some were black and white tweed, some had red, yellow, blue, and green yarn flecks in them. These tweeds were reprocessed wool, nylon, rayon and cotton. The chief complaint was against the black dye of the wool yarn. Moisture from stains caused the black to "bleed" over the white nylon, cotton and rayon fibers. The owners of the suits in attempting to remove stains quickly with water only, increased the "bleeding", causing the white fibers to take on a gray appearance. In two-piece suits, when one piece was cleaned and the other not, the pieces did not match.

To test a garment for color-fastness, moisten an inside seam and blot it with a white blotter. If the black dye shows on the blotter beware! And don't blame your drycleaner if your fine imported tweed "bleeds" to accepted stain and spot removal procedures.

Our growing international trade will reveal more and more of these problems. Foreign fabrics are often beautiful, long-wearing and practical, but remember standards are not as rigid abroad as at home.

CREATIVITY AND COURAGE

Artist Fights Back— And Conquers Polio

By
LARINE O'BRIEN BROWN

Back in 1939 the future was bright for talented Miss Lenore Woolams.

A sculptress of increasing prominence and great promise, she had just accomplished her first major work—a "Madonna and Child" statue that now sits in a niche below the Monteagle Memorial window at the entrance to Grace Cathedral in San Francisco.

For this work she used no model other than "my own idea of serenity."

Behind her lay six years of serious study in sculpture on advice of Gleb Ilyan, and including work with Benjamino Buffano in San Francisco, John Storrs in Chicago, and two years of study in Paris.

Ahead lay a career which seemed likely to carry her to the top of the artistic world.

And then dreaded polio struck, paralyzing her from the neck down.

SINCE THEN her story has been one of two struggles—the fight for life itself, and the fight to preserve her artistic talents and abilities.

That she has won both against great odds is a great tribute to her own courage.

When polio struck, Miss Woolams was ordered by her doctors immobilized for two years — then the accepted method of treatment. But she became impatient at this seeming surrender to her ailment. So she embarked on a tedious tour of medical centers in an effort to regain use of her dormant muscles.

Gradually she recovered the use of her upper body. Although still a prisoner of her casts and splints, she regained partial use of her hands. No small factor was the urging those hands received from her heart to resume their creative activities.

Thus in conquering not only the ravages of a disease but also self pity, she regained the use of her gifted hands.

She got them back — and more—by the steady application of courage and a life-saving faith that is reaffirmed in her work.

BY 1947 HER portraits in clay were featured in the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

In 1949, from her wheelchair, she moulded a life-sized bust replica of Gaetano Merola, managing director of the San Francisco Opera Company. This was accomplished with 200 pounds of clay placed on a table with casters. The work was finished in five days.

In 1950 samples of her work were exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

Marin has samples of her work in the statues of the Virgin Mary and of St. Joseph and the Christ Child, done in Honduras mahogany and placed in St. Sebastian's Catholic Church in Greenbrae. The heavy wood was placed between two sawhorses so she could turn them "like chickens on a spit" in performing her art.

A memorial carved in golden teakwood was the head of Mary McArthur, daughter of Mrs. Charles McArthur (actress Helen Hayes) done in 1958 by Miss Woolams. Mary McArthur died of bulbar polio at the age of 19.

A specialist in ecclesiastical art, she does her sculpture work in both teakwood and in ceramics. And she is also adept at mosaics.

Today the 43-year-old artist resides with her devoted mother, Mrs. Elsa Woolams, in an apartment on Lincoln avenue in San Rafael. There she is confined to her wheelchair. But she is seldom idle.

SHE COOKS, makes her own clothes, and assists her mother in every way possible. Her brilliant mind is as active as ever. Her attitude is completely optimistic. And on one thing, her mind is made up: She will walk again.

She says there is too much work to be done for her to remain confined to the wheelchair.

Toward that end she will go to Vallejo in about two months to resume therapy. There she will have financial assistance from the National Foundation.

Miss Woolams is quick to express her appreciation of the assistance she has received from the foundation, and from the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults which provided her with nursing care from Easter Seal proceeds following surgery last October.

And the two organizations, in turn, are proud of Miss Woolams, pointing to her as an example of how warmhearted fellow citizens can provide a helping hand to not only save lives but also preserve a creative talent.

SOME 40,000 envelopes mailed in Marin this week by the Society for Handicapped Children and Adults marked the start of the 1960 Easter Seal campaign in the county.

Drive officials note that Lenore Woolams is just one example of a case in which aid from Easter Seal contributions has made it possible for a courageous person to fight her way back to health and a useful role in society.

FROM HER WHEELCHAIR in her Lincoln avenue apartment in San Rafael artist Lenore Woolams works at her drawing board, outlining some figures for a mosaic. It's a piece which she has been invited to show at an exhibit of ecclesiastical art to be held at Grace Cathedral Church in San Francisco.

IN SCULPTURE, Miss Woolams works with two media—teakwood and ceramics. The study figure at left is carved in golden teakwood. The boy's head in the center, upon which she is working, is a ceramic piece. Her subject: James Heynemann of Belvedere. And the white piece at the right is also in ceramics. Her subject for that sculpture, created several years ago, was Dana Doherty, daughter of San Francisco newspaperman Charles Doherty.

Marin's Rich History Captured In Pictures

The Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. will hold the grand opening of its new home at 990 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, next Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 6.

At that time souvenir books containing a rich collection of historical Marin photos will be presented free to visitors.

Your Marin Magazine gives you a preview look at some of those old and rare photos on this page, and on Page M-12.

As Marin County's oldest savings and loan association, Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. is naturally interested in the backgrounds and development of the county to whose growth they have greatly contributed. An additional incentive is the fact that their new home is located on the grounds of the former Mission San Rafael Arcangel, founded in 1817.

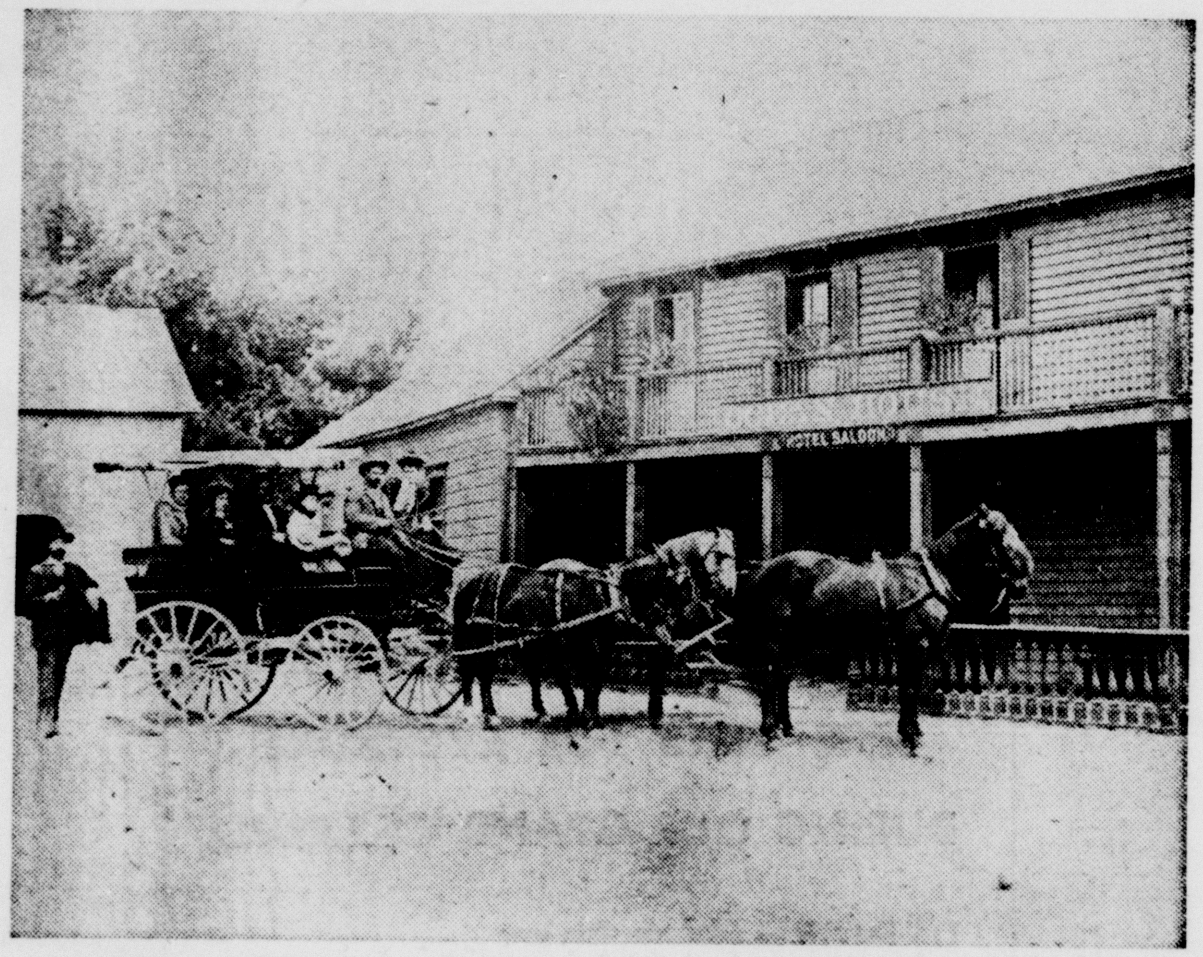
The pictorial review has been made possible through the generosity of Marin residents and organizations who loaned their priceless old pictures for reproduction, enabling the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. to assemble the comprehensive 64-page review of "Early Days in Marin," which should be particularly pleasing as a gift to visitors at their opening celebration.

The Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. will celebrate its 74th birthday this year, being established in 1886 by a group of local businessmen. Policy since that time has been to maintain strong local management and reserves well in excess of legal requirements. Each account is insured to $10,000 by an agency of the federal government. Withdrawals have always been met on demand and interest has been maintained at a safe, high rate during the many years this firm has been in business.

Current president of the board of directors is Superior Judge Jordan L. Martinelli. Executive vice president and manager is Fred F. Enemark, well known for his civic and community service.

Secretary and assistant manager is Jordan L. Martinelli Jr.

THIS EXCELLENT PHOTO of St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael was submitted by Les Walsh Studio of San Rafael. Built in 1869, it was the second place of worship to be located on the property. The first was the Mission San Rafael Arcangel. This St. Raphael's was destroyed by fire in January of 1919, and that same year the cornerstone of the present Catholic church was laid.



THE BOLINAS STAGE is shown in front of the Ocean House at Bolinas, a favorite spot of vacationers during the summer months. The hotel along with a saloon and wharf were built by George Gavitt in 1853. It was later known as the Flagstaff Inn, and was destroyed in the 1906 earthquake. Photo from Mrs. James L. Jenkins Sr. of Bolinas.

THE DOOR-TO-DOOR Chinese peddler was a familiar sight on San Rafael streets in the latter part of the 19th and early part of the 20th centuries. Many came by ferry and train from San Francisco to peddle fresh fruits and vegetables, rattan baskets, Chinese imports and delicacies from Chinatown. This photo was taken by Mrs. Agnes Palmer when she was at a picnic at McNear's Beach in 1909 with other San Rafael High School seniors.

MILL VALLEY looked like this in 1910. For many years it was primarily a summer resort with only a few people living there the year around. The quake and fire of 1906, however, brought a large influx of San Franciscans to Mill Valley to make their permanent homes. This photo submitted by Roy Farrington Jones of San Anselmo. For other historic Marin photos taken from the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. souvenir book, see Page M-12.

Steady Growth Forces Move

As Marin County's oldest savings association we are proud of our financial growth shared by everyone in our community which makes possible this move to a new home.

Our savers are increasing their financial security by earning the current 4½% yearly interest rate, 50% more than many financial institutions pay. They do so safely because we are insured by an agency of the federal government, maintain reserves far in excess of legal requirements, and are backed by almost 74 years of strong local management.

Those on the way to debt-free home ownership through one of our real estate loans also achieve financial security.

When we move next week into our new home at 990 Fifth Avenue at Court in San Rafael we will continue to specialize in just two things — SAVINGS AND REAL ESTATE LOANS.

We invite you to visit us and join in our savings program. The dollars saved and loaned in our own community mean prosperity and progress for all.

Grand Opening Next Weekend In Our New Home...990 Fifth Avenue at Court, San Rafael

Unusual Gifts For Visitors

We know you will be particularly pleased with the unusual gift we have for you to commemorate our move to a new home. We have compiled, through the generosity of both Marin residents and organizations, a picture review of early days in Marin. It has been assembled in attractive book form and is available free to all visitors during our opening celebration.

The picture book reviews Marin's colorful past from the time Mission San Rafael Arcangel was founded in 1817, through the days of the Dons and later when the only way to get to San Francisco was by train and ferry. Each area of Marin is represented in the interesting display of old phonographs.

As time moves on we hope this book will become a collector's item and that you will enjoy having it in your library as a picture record of the days of long ago.

Marin County's oldest savings and loan association will move to this handsome new home next weekend. This building was designed by Crawford & Banning, A.I.A., San Rafael, and built by Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross. It is located on the property where the former Mission San Rafael Arcangel was founded in 1817. This historic site is a link between long ago and today.

We are looking forward to your visit during our Grand Opening and we hope you will like our convenient new location in San Rafael.

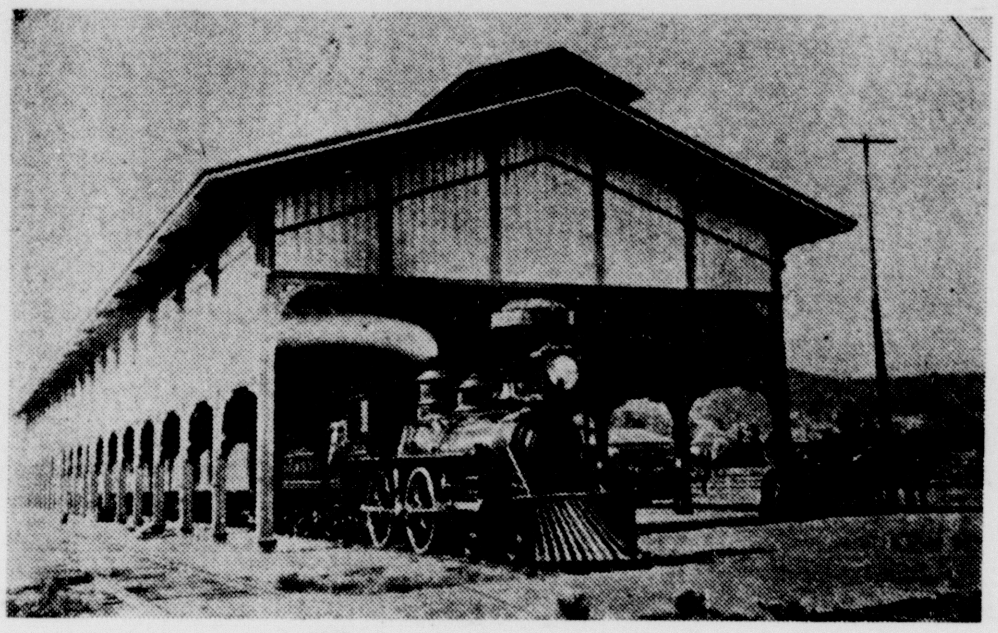
CORINTHIAN COVE at Belvedere-Tiburon looked like this early in the century. The area was sparsely settled and used primarily as a resort for picnickers and other pleasure seekers who enjoyed the rural atmosphere and the boating. Photo submitted by Britton Rey of Belvedere.

THE COMING OF the North Pacific Coast Railroad with its shops, ferry slips, and employment opportunities brought some major changes to Sausalito. Later came the realignment of the highway and the building of the Golden Gate Bridge. Photo courtesy of Mrs. James L. Jenkins Sr., Bolinas.



THIS RAILROAD STATION, built in San Rafael for the San Francisco and North Pacific Coast Railroad by the line's owner, Peter Donahue, was completed on May 1, 1884. It was later referred to as Union Station and stood where the Northwestern Pacific station is today. Photo submitted by Roy Farrington Jones, San Anselmo.

THIS BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE was one of the San Rafael showplaces of its day. It was built by Peter Donahue for his son, J. Mervin Donahue, and sold later to millionaire Leon Douglass. It later became the Paloma Inn, and was noted for its cuisine. Today it is still in use—as the First Baptist Church. The picture was supplied by Raymond Sheldon, San Rafael.

HERE IS EARLY Point Reyes Station, 1906. The coming of the North Pacific Coast Railroad made this community, located in fertile country, a central shipping point for dairy products. The word "station" was added to the name to distinguish the community from the rest of the Pt. Reyes peninsula. Photo courtesy of Edward Burke, San Rafael.

THIS FORK in the railroad won San Anselmo the title of "the junction" as it was called for many years. The station shown is the original building. Sausalito Theater's Offering Light, Frothy

For director Vincent Porcaro, the new Sausalito Little Theater production of "Thieves' Carnival," which opens next Friday night for a run of five weekends, represents a challenge that is a complete change of pace.

His last two assignments with the Actor's Workshop were "Garden District" and "Epitaph for George Dillon."

In sharp contrast, "Thieves' Carnival" is all lightness, froth, and elegance. There are few serious moments.

It is a happy farce by France's Jean Anouihl.

It deals with a stylish family of Vichy in the early 1900s. There is intrigue and romance, done with charm and just a hint of old slapstick comedy. And with musical accompaniment off-stage.

Colorful sets and costumes are certain to heighten the feeling of gaiety in the Sausalito Little Theater version.

Only yellow, white, orange, and chartreuse are used.

John Waltz' costumes are audacious in their elegance and style. The ladies will wear yards and yards of ruffles, and outlandish, over-sized hats with huge feathers and lilies.

Although a highly successful run of "The Crucible" has just been completed, the entire Sausalito Little Theater group has nevertheless been hard at work at carpentry, painting, rehearsals, etc., in preparation for the new thespian venture.

Earle Marsh is the production manager and John Shockley the stage manager. The cast is large and experienced.

Included are Peggy Evans, T. D. Casey, Mary Anne Hill, Lenor Brawley, Stan Alsop, Walter Mahoney, David Sell, Don Micaelian, and Lou Mason.

Kids' Treat: History Spiced With Mystery And Adventure

There's nothing like some mystery and adventure to make history come alive for children.

That's the formula for "Cabin Boy With Captain Cook," the next Junior Theater of Marin production.

There will be two performances by the Children's Theater of the West next Saturday at the San Rafael High School auditorium, starting at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m.

The play is an original production written especially for the Children's Theater of the West by Jean Shannon Smith. It's the story of a lad who while serving aboard His Majesty's Ship the Resolution on its discovery voyage to Hawaii becomes involved in a treasure hunt.

Junior Theater leaders point out that its ascension to statehood status has focussed attention upon Hawaii as never before, and that educators have been emphasizing studies of the islands in their school programs. With this newly aroused curiosity as to Hawaii's history and people, it seems an appropriate time for a children's theater production on the subject, they note.

There is remarkably little poetic license in "Cabin Boy with Captain Cook," it is added.

Two handsome sets — one the common room used by seamen aboard the Resolution as a mess hall, the other the main deck of the ship—are used. The action takes place on Jan. 18, 1778, the day the Hawaiian Islands were discovered.

Four young Californians appear in the cast. Robert Bridges plays the title role, Don West the villain, Kenneth Rugg the cowardly Squeeze, and Carol Waugh, a San Francisco State College graduate, has the part of the 12-year-old Hawaiian girl, Kalili.

Those not holding season tickets may purchase admission tickets at the door.

Theater parties desiring group reservations should contact Mrs. Chester Carlisle of San Anselmo.

BOOKS

This One Appeals To 8-Year-Old

I, BECKY BARRYMORE, by Benson Wheeler, illustrated by Lionel Barrymore, Robert Speller and Sons, 50 pages, $3.50. Reviewed by Linda Henderson, aged 8.

This is story about a cat, written like a poem, with good pictures. I never knew about Mr. Lionel Barrymore, but these are the best pictures of cats I've ever seen. He was a good artist.

In this story he said he loved cats. He had about 22 and he never kept them in cages; he let them run around his house.

Becky was a pretty kitten, she loved her mother dearly and always did what her mother told her to. "Go to Hollywood," her mother said. So she did. She turned out to be a success because she met Mr. Barrymore.

She had lots of adventures at his house. When she first got there the cook told her to get out. How frightened she was! But Mr. Barrymore gave her a home. He played music for her and made her quite happy except he liked lamb chops for breakfast and she wanted fish. But they got along together fine until the day she caught a mouse. Then she was in trouble. But Mr. Barrymore made everything all right.

I think this story would be nice for girls about 8 years old or maybe younger.

TO BE HEARD in a joint recital tonight at Broadus Hall, Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Strawberry Point, will be Adolf Baller, pianist, and Gabor Rejto, cellist. Their program, starting at 8:30 p.m., will include Bach, Brahms, Debussy and Beethoven. Mariedi Anders is offering the program in cooperation with the Music Teachers Assn. of Marin County.

MARIN POETS' CORNER

SADNESS ON A RAINY DAY

Straight and sharp-pointed it stands in the grey wetness of today.
Thorny, barren plum that has so often brought down the sun
into its warm leaves and offered its fruit to birds of the sky.
Plum,
today your trunk is stark
as the sadness I feel.
The thorn on the limb
pushes itself deep into my flesh.
The twig holds the rain in clear droplets of tears from my eye.

TANYA, A BRAND new rose with a brand new color, is photographed here with a Russian church in the background. The bud is a lively red-orange. GARDENERS CHECKLIST

Here is this week's checklist for Marin gardeners:

✔ Wise rosarians will be out these days watching new growth in the rose garden. Aphids are the main thing to look for. Shoot them down before they get a foothold.

✔ Feeding Camellias is a post-bloom item on your gardener's checklist. Liquid Fish and an acid-type commercial fertilizer and iron chaelates are all used.

✔ Weed flower beds to conserve moisture and preserve appearance.

✔ Feed lawns under trees an extra helping of food to help them overcome competition from the tree roots.

✔ Feed Azaleas and Camellias with acid food as they go out of bloom. Hold off on Rhododendrons so as not to force new growth to interfere with the bloom.

✔ A container planting for the desk makes an unusual and welcome gift. They'll be at their best when weather's best if you plant them now.

✔ Most leafy salad vegetables and many others, too, are available as seedlings for easy transfer to your kitchen garden.

Sow Your Seeds In Rows—Don't Just Scatter Them

When you contemplate sowing flower seeds in a bed where considerable areas are to be devoted to one kind, it is very tempting to scatter the seeds broadcast, and save a little effort.

Don't you do it- The amount of work saved by broadcasting instead of planting in rows is all too often lost many times over in subsequent labor.

In the first place, scattering the seed "nature's way," is very wasteful, for it is nearly impossible to rake and cover to the proper depth if the seeds have just been sprinkled on the surface. For this reason more seed must be used to obtain a satisfactory number of plants, and frequently there is an awkward irregularity in the location of the seedlings, with too many in one place and none in another.

In the second place, it is often very difficult to differentiate between flower seedlings and weeds if the seeds have been sown broadcast. No uniform pattern appears, and by the time identification is possible the weeds may very well have choked out the planting.

Sowing in rows, on the other hand, makes uniform covering possible, controls the spacing of the seed much better, makes identification of seedlings easy (because you can see the line as they come up), and makes weeding and cultivation simple. Curved rows can be used to vary the pattern without losing the advantage of this method of planting.

Admitted that it is hard to "sow thinly" with very fine flower seeds, still the penalty for not effectively following those instruction is to have to remove excess plants — the greater the excess, the greater the problem.

Tiny seedlings coming up like moss require immediate and massive thinning. The best way is to skim off all the sprouts in inch wide patches, leaving narrow strips of seedlings undisturbed. Then work into the remaining clusters with the tip of a knife, carefully lifting out all but two or three spaced seedlings in the cluster.

A few days later, when the effects of the first thinning have passed, remove the remaining excess plants so that only one or two are growing in each inch of row.

A week later, look again, removing every other plant if they are beginning to touch each other, and continue this sort of thinning until you have attained the final spacing for the size plant involved.

Small size flowers like alyssum can remain as near as 4 inches apart, somewhat larger ones but with compact plants like the "Satin" petunia hybrids should stand about 10 inches apart. The big zinnias should end up 18 inches apart each way.

Pinch The Pansies

It may grieve you to do it, but pansies are better for having their first blooms pinched off before they open. This practice encourages bushiers plants.

As the plants grow, pinch out any runners that develop and cut the blooms before they go to seed. You'll add life to your planting and beauty to your bouquets with this latter practice.
